Legislative Group Tackles Problem of State Education Aid

Payments to Total More Than Fourth of Executive Budget

MADISON (AP) — A Legislative Council subcommittee began Tuesday with one of its most involved and expensive programs—state aid to schools.

Aid payments for the two-year period beginning July 1, 1963, are expected to account for more than one fourth of the estimated $600 million executive budget for the biennium.

The subcommittee is charged with recommending revision of the aid formula to the next Legislature. State Superintendent of Public Instruction Angus Rothwell told the group that if aid formulas are not increased the cost to local taxpayers will rise or school standards will fall.

Rates Expected to Rise
And the subcommittee heard the prediction that because the 1961 Legislature failed to increase guarantee valuations in the aid formula school tax rates throughout the state will be boosted as much as one mill.

The present formulas were set up in 1949 and, except for 1961, have been revised upward every two years. On the basis of present formulas it will cost the state $32 million more in 1963-65 than the $131.2 million aid cost in 1961-63.

The school aid plan instituted in 1949 is designed to provide equal education opportunities in all state schools. Two types of aid are provided: flat or per pupil aids, and equalization aids.

State's Guarantee
At present about 65 per cent of Wisconsin pupils attend school in integrated districts, kindergarten through 12th grade. Under the present formulas the state guarantees $33,000 in equalized property valuation behind each pupil in such a district.

Because schools are basically supported by property taxes, the equalization aids insure that each district has sufficient tax base to pay for educating the child.

Some school districts in the state have only $7,000 in taxable property for each pupil while other districts have as much as $80,000. The tax rate is usually expressed in mills. A mill is one-tenth of a cent or $1 per $1,000.

In cities operating their own school system the school board draws up a budget subject to city council approval and the council levies the taxes.

Cost Per Pupil
The State Tax Department certifies the property value of each district to the Department of Public Instruction. The department sets the net current operating cost per pupil.

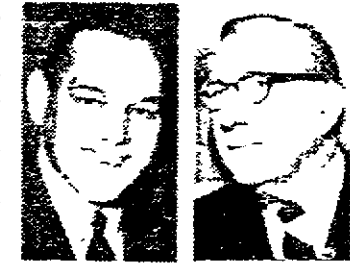

Suppose the net operating cost per

Lausche, DiSalle Renominated in Ohio Contests

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Former Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida and Robert Taft Jr., son of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, won decisive primary election victories Tuesday in their bids for Congress.

Two other Florida candidates, Sen. George Smathers and Rep. Dante Fascell, also won Democratic renomination. Like Pepper, who was a staunch New Deal supporter in the '30s and '40s, they had strongly endorsed President Kennedy's program and had received the President's blessing.

Army's Draft Quota Is 5,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's July draft quota will be 5,000 men—the smallest call since the beginning of partial mobilization last summer. The largest was 25,000 in September.

The July quota, the Defense Department announced Tuesday, will maintain the authorized Army strength of 960,000 by offsetting the release of reservists and National Guardsmen who will be leaving active duty.

U. S. Intervenes in Suit Against Two Hospitals

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Negro physicians, dentists and patients

The suit filed Feb. 12, was among the first steps by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to end hospital segregation in the South.

The Department of Justice asked court permission Tuesday to join in the suit against two hospitals that have received $2.6 million in federal aid for construction.

Provision Challenged
The department contended that a provision in the Hill-Burton Act of 1946—which permits grants for hospital construction—was unconstitutional.

The challenged provision allows grants "where separate hospital facilities are provided for separate population groups."

A Justice Department attorney filed a motion in U.S. District Court here to intervene in the suit against Moses Cone Hospital and Wesley Long Hospital.

The suit is directed against the separate-but-equal provisions in the Hill-Burton Act, which has been used to distribute hundreds of millions of dollars for construction of hospitals.

U. S. Sets Off Sixth Nuclear Explosion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has set off its sixth shot in the series of nuclear tests in the Pacific.

The government announcement Tuesday said the device was in the intermediate yield range—equal to more than 20,000 tons and less than a million tons of TNT—and was dropped from a plane land.

Officials Fear Impact on Other Allies as Result of Kennedy-Adenauer Break

WASHINGTON (AP)—A potentially dangerous open split between the United States and West Germany clouded the outlook today for future U.S. talks with the Soviet Union on terms of a possible Berlin settlement.

U.S. officials said the Kennedy administration is fully determined to go ahead with the probing conversations. But there was some uncertainty as to just how fast Secretary of State Dean Rusk would be able to move. He is due to have another meeting with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin in the next week or so.

President Kennedy was expected to discuss the situation at a mid-afternoon news conference, probably emphasizing his intention that the conversations be carried on in full consultation with West Germany and other directly interested countries.

Officials here said it was not possible to assess immediately the full impact of the open break between Adenauer and the Kennedy administration over the conduct of the U.S.-Soviet talks.

Dangerous to Allies
But any such rift in Allied ranks is always worrisome and potentially hazardous because of the possible impact on other Allied powers.

Washington officials said the situation was complicated further by an evident disaccord within the German government itself.

The line which Adenauer has taken in public discussion at Berlin this week was described by these officials as differing sharply from the line which Foreign Minister Gerhardt Schroeder took in talks with Rusk at Athens as recently as last weekend.

Objections to Long Delays
Adenauer told a news conference Tuesday that "I see no ground for continuing the talks" between American and Soviet officials. He also asked at one point in the news conference: "Do you think there is no danger in continuing talks indefinitely without result?"

The effect of his question was to suggest that he thinks it might prove dangerous to carry on the exploratory discussion indefinitely.

The State Department, about the same time, reacted to comments which Adenauer had made earlier in Berlin when he assailed as unworkable a U.S. proposal for creation of an international authority to operate the supply lines

Reynolds Asks Court to Order Redistricting

Submits Brief in Opposition to Plea For Dismissal

MADISON (AP)—The U.S. District Court has jurisdiction and should decree a new apportionment of Wisconsin's political districts, Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds said today in a brief filed with the court.

Reynolds offered the brief in opposition to a motion to dismiss his reapportionment suit.

Secretary of State Robert Zimmerman contends that the suit should be dismissed because realignment at this time would be impractical and premature. A three-member panel will hear the dismissal motion Friday.

Says Remedies Exhausted
"The State of Wisconsin has exhausted its remedies in the state courts," Reynolds said in the brief, "and has been denied relief by the State Supreme Court."

Reynolds again argued that the 1961 Legislature "effectively adjourned and refused to perform its constitutional mandate to apportion during the first session following the decennial census."

The brief urged that the district court panel appoint a special master to recommend new apportionment: "in view of the time limitations."

Counsel for Zimmerman filed a brief Tuesday in rebuttal to Reynolds' action to bring about immediate reapportionment.

Senate Refuses to Quit Debate on Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted 53-43 today against shutting off debate on the Kennedy administration's voter literacy test bill, and then rejected 64-33 a motion to table and thus kill the measure.

The two votes left the Senate back where it had been when it started the day—with the issue still before it and with Southern foes of the measure still free to carry on unlimited debate, or filibustering, against it.

The bill, under debate for two weeks, would exempt persons with a 6th grade education from having to pass a literacy test to vote in federal elections. Backers of the bill contend such tests have been used in some Southern areas to keep Negroes from voting.

The main argument advanced against the bill is a contention that it would be an unconstitutional invasion of the right of the states to fix the qualifications for voters.

Kennedy Says All Doctors Under Medical Care Bill

President's Remark Seen as Rebuke to New Jersey Medics

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says his medical care for the aged plan will be approved by Congress and that all doctors will treat patients under it—an indirect reference to some 200 New Jersey physicians who say they won't.

Thus Kennedy obliquely joined a more direct assault on the physicians' stand launched by other administration officials.

The New Jersey physicians, from Point Pleasant Hospital and Fitch Memorial Hospital at Neptune, signed a resolution last week saying they would refuse to treat patients under Kennedy's Social Security-financed medical plan if it passed Congress.

Kennedy, speaking Tuesday at the United Auto Workers convention in Atlantic City, said "I am confident that the great majority, in fact all doctors, will treat those who may be covered by this national program."

Also speaking before the auto workers, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg called the resolution "a disgrace, a disgrace to the country."

Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff said the doctors were violating their professional oath and that the resolution was an attempt to blackmail Congress and the American people.

Ribicoff said "these doctors apparently believe it is all right for the federal government to help build the hospitals in which they practice, but that an insurance plan that would help their patients pay their hospital bills would not be good."

Replies to Ribicoff
Dr. J. Bruce Henriksen, who initiated the New Jersey resolution, denounced Ribicoff's statement as a threat to withhold federal aid from hospitals whose doctors oppose the medical care plan.

New Jersey's six Democratic congressmen appealed to the New

430,000 Drop In Unemployment Occurs in April

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment dropped by 430,000 in April and went below the four-million figure for the first time this year, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg announced today.

Although the improvement was normal for the season, Goldberg said the decline—and a simultaneous rise in employment to an April record—was an encouraging sign of continued business expansion.

The unemployment rate remained at 5.5 per cent of the civilian labor force, the same as in March as against the 6.9 per cent of a year earlier.

The rate is based on seasonal adjustments, and remained unchanged this month because the drop was expected.

UAW Plans Drive for House Seats

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Labor strategists have come up with an embarrassing statistic: union members outnumber professionals and business executives 2-1 but each group exercises about equal voting power in national elections.

Politically conscious delegates to the United Auto Workers Union convention got this information before they acted to support a drive to add 20 to 30 liberal House members to Congress in the fall elections.

President Walter Reuther was elected by acclamation to his 10th straight term as head of million-member UAW. He was unopposed.

Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey similarly was reelected without opposition. Most other officers were unopposed. The convention was due to add three new members to the executive board: Ken Bannan, Douglas Fraser and Nelson "Jack" Edwards, all of Detroit. Edwards is the first Negro board member.

It was Reuther's brother, Roy, a leading figure in the UAW Political Action Department, who brought out the worker-executive voting standoff. He told the convention the 1960 voting and census figures show union members made up 37 per cent of the voting population but represented only 26 per cent of the votes cast.

Experts Seeking Cause Of Centaur's Explosion

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Radio signals and telescopic camera films were analyzed today by technicians seeking the cause of the in-flight explosion of the first Centaur high-energy space rocket.

The study was watched closely by Project Mercury officials for any clue which might force a delay of the orbital space flight of astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, scheduled for May 17.

Blow to Program
The 105-1001 Centaur blew apart 30,000 feet above the Atlantic Ocean 55 seconds after it was fired on its maiden flight Tuesday.

The spectacular failure dealt a severe blow to U.S. plans to develop the rocket as a booster for sending heavyweight payloads into earth orbit and to the moon, Mars and Venus.

Mercury officials were concerned lest the trouble be traced to the Centaur's Atlas first stage. There were indications that the first stage was at fault.

A similar Atlas missile is on a launching pad here being prepared to loft Carpenter into space on a three-orbit mission similar to that made by Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. on Feb. 20.

The Atlas is a complex vehicle with more than 300,000 moving parts. If the Centaur failure is traced to the Atlas system, then that part of Carpenter's booster would be checked thoroughly before a green light would be given to his space ride. Analysis of the data may take two or three days.

Tricky Fuel Problem
The National Aeronautics and Space Administration had hoped for a successful first flight of the Centaur to help reduce nearly a year of frustrating delays in launching the rocket. The main problem stems from developing high-energy liquid hydrogen as a propellant for the second stage.

Controlling this tricky, super-cold fuel, which must be kept at

Lower Prices Called Vital To Automation

Required in World
Competitive Trade,
Study Group States

BY MILT FREUDENHEIM
Chicago Daily News Service
HARRIMAN, N.Y. — A ray of hope for the often forgotten man, the consumer, has emerged here from a study of the automation revolution.

A group of 66 experts from business, labor, government and the universities warned that lower-cost production must pay off in lower prices.

"Price reductions are a way to preserve and enlarge markets in a competitive world," reported the 21st American Assembly at the Arden House campus here of Columbia University.

Competition from Europe's common market, the Communists, and the new challenges in under-developed countries all mean pressure for lower prices, it said.

Greater Output Needed
America must keep on increasing productivity to hold up wages and living standards while aiding foreign friends.

But productivity gains "must be allocated to lower prices as well as to higher wages, higher profits and increased leisure."

Predicting that radical changes in automation and production methods may bring "revolutionary consequences" by 1970, the assembly cited labor relations as a prime target for change.

"International competition places new constraints on many collective bargaining negotiations," the report said.

"Such constraints are operating in western European countries and are likely to be increasingly significant in the United States."

Shorter Week Problem
These limitations on unbridled management and labor power often must be observed by bargaining parties in their own or the national interest. Assembly par-

Historians Dig for British Fort Relics

DETROIT (AP) — Historians took over supervision of digging at a building construction site after workmen turned up parts of a British fort built in 1779.

Wooden structures found by diggers at a new bank site were authenticated as parts of Fort Lornout, built on what is now Fort and Washington, a busy intersection in the city's heart.

The Detroit Bank and Trust Co. and building contractor Sam Munkoff invited historians to excavate further for more relics.

ticipants failed to agree on whether work week reductions should have priority over the national need for growing output.

But they noted that the automation revolution requires modernizing collective bargaining.

Some craft unions must be brought together to attack national problems at the bargaining table in other cases, bar eggheads and practical executives must bet into contact.

decentralized down to the plant or city level.

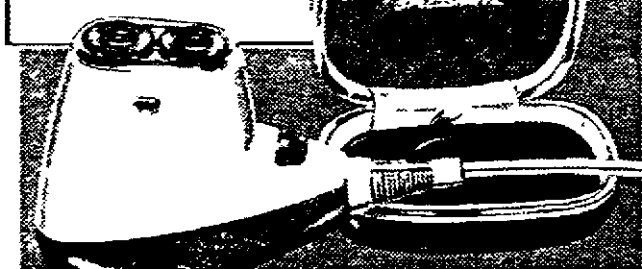

Some industries may have to drop piece rates, wage incentives and hourly pay methods.

The American Assembly was founded by former President Eisenhower while he headed Columbia University. It stirs up thinking on rival issues by bringing heads and practical executives into contact.

HEY, FELLOWS—START BUILDING EARLY TO WIN THE SOAP BOX DERBY!

Boys, four bright and shiny wheels, just like those above, are waiting to take you down the hill on what could be the greatest adventure of your life. They're official Soap Box Derby wheels. Build a winning car on them and they can carry you to the hometown championship and win you honors including a $500 savings bond from Chevrolet. And, best of all, they can take you to Akron, Ohio, for four days of thrills and excitement you'll remember a lifetime. Four days topped off by the chance to race in the 25th Silver Anniversary All-American Soap Box Derby on August 4 for national fame and a share of $30,000 in college scholarships. If you'll be at least 11 and not over 15 as of August 1, 1962, you can enter. It's easy. Just go with Mom or Dad to the nearest sponsoring Chevrolet dealer's. Sign up and pick up a free copy of the Official Rule Book. It will be loads of fun building a car along with the other kids. All you have to remember is to do all the work of building the car yourself. So start those wheels rolling today, what say?

Lawrence Says Try at Tax Revision May Spur Economy

Administration Plan Aimed at Solving Fiscal Situation

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON—Talk of a general revision of tax rates is being renewed in administration circles. The objective is to spur the economy and bring about an actual increase in tax receipts.

The basic principle of tax revision is sound. The federal government is confronted today with a sluggish economy. Wage rates are rising, and the administration either is unwilling or feels it has no power to restrain such increases. It isn't too hopeful either that it now can keep prices stable in view of the fact that the frasco in steel has been followed by wage increase demands in other industries.

By turning to the tax problem, therefore, a feeling is developing here that a solution to the whole fiscal situation may be found. Uncle Sam has the biggest stake in encouraging the earning of more tax money. Whatever stimulates interest in better plant and equipment not only can ultimately increase tax receipts but can result soon in a general improvement in business and larger and larger employment rolls.

Sensational Story
Latest figures on the overall situation, derived from government data on the national economy, tell a sensational story. They show plainly that the profit picture needs to be carefully analyzed by the administration if it wants some day to balance its budget and create a surplus out of which to pay off its debt.

Thus, comparing the average of the years 1934 through 1937 with the average of 1958 through 1961, the national income in the United States is up 19.6 per cent.

Sales by corporations are up 18.7 per cent.

The pay of corporation workers is up 16.9 per cent.

But the stark fact which stands out is that despite all these increases corporate profits after taxes show a rise of only 3.3 per cent.

The comparison is worse when it is based on the percentage of national income. The total pay of all corporation employees as a proportion of the national income has actually dropped. It was 43.7 per cent from 1954 to 1957, and 43.5 per cent from 1958 to 1961.

Even more discouraging is the fact that corporate profits, figured in terms of national income, are down by 12.7 per cent in the 1958-1961 period as compared with the previous four-year average.

Corporate tax receipts, moreover, dropped 1.5 per cent in the last four years compared with the preceding four years.

This means that, despite all the talk of national output increasing, there has been in practical effect a retardation of the whole economy. The country isn't "moving ahead" as the politicians predicted.

Stock Decline
The downward trend may explain the steady decline in stock-market prices of about $36 billion from mid-December to April, 1961. Investors who had been hoping to see a steady increase in earnings finally have become skeptical.

High tax rates are the basic cause of the lag in business development in the last few years. They have also failed to produce more revenue for the government.

The Treasury could collect more money eventually with lower tax rates than it does today, with higher rates. Temporarily there would be a drop-off covering about 18 months of a transition period. But the boom would be felt almost immediately in many lines of business, because planning for expansion would start at once in various kinds of enterprises, especially in the heavy-goods field.

Incentives
The administration's economic advisers and Treasury officials have been debating the best way to use tax changes as an incentive. The so-called 7 per cent credit for new equipment isn't favored by businessmen generally, because it may prove to be a temporary measure and it ap- pears some day to balance its books doesn't take care of all phases of modernization and all the items usually covered in the building of plant facilities.

What is favored, on the other hand, is a prompt revision across the board of all the rates of depreciation so that business can at least make five-year plans.

Within the last few days the secretary of commerce, Luther Hodges, has talked about tax-rate changes if the budget can be balanced. But, unless there's some check on government spending, the fiscal picture will not improve and tax receipts will not save the day.

Corporate Taxes
What is being suggested by some administration officials is that the top rate in personal income taxes be reduced from the 91 per cent level to somewhere around 65 per cent. Corporation taxes be cut from 52 per cent to 49 per cent and income taxes in the lower brackets also be revised downward.

Up to now there has been talk that something like this might be prepared as a gimmick for the 1964 political campaign. But if America is in the throes of a recession in 1963 and 1964, tax revision would not come in time to help the Kennedy administration. That's why the idea of taking action in the session of Congress beginning in January 1963 but announcing it this summer, is gaining ground inside the administration as much the better political strategy.

Three Fox Cities area Air Force Reserve officers have been appointed liaison officers for the Air Force Academy, and will serve northeastern Wisconsin. Discussing their duties are, from left, Maj. Lawrence J. Thein, Appleton; Capt. Ernest M. Strom, Ogdensburg; Capt. Donovan Oliver, Menasha, Academy liaison officer coordinator for Wisconsin, and Maj. Warren F. Jarvis.

3 Appointed Liaison Officers

To Give Information On Air Academy in Northeast Wisconsin

Capt. Donovan Oliver, Menasha, United States Air Force Academy liaison officer coordinator for Wisconsin, announced the appointment of three Academy Liaison officers.

They are Air Reserve Majors Lawrence J. Thein, 919 Rankin St. Appleton, and Warren F. Jarvis, 319 S. Roger St., Kimberly, both assigned to the Eighth Congressional District, and Capt. Ernest M. Strom, route 1, Ogdensburg, assigned to the Seventh District. Their primary duties will be to counsel eligible young men who may be interested in seeking appointment to the Air Force Academy, maintaining contact with them, their parents, high school teachers and guidance counselors; to volunteer to address student, civic and fraternal groups on behalf of the Academy. Their services also will be available to Senators Alexander Wiley and William Proxmire and the district congressmen to aid them in the selection of applicants for nomination.

Maj. Thein will serve mainly in Appleton, upper Outagamie County and parts of Oconto, Marinette, Forest and Florence counties. Pending appointment of a second and liaison officer in the Seventh Congressional district, Capt. Strom will cover all of its 11 counties.

Single young men between the ages of 17 and 22 who seek information on nomination and appointment to the Air Force Academy, its four-year curriculum and the cadet way of life, may contact the liaison officer for their community.

At Kimberly High School, Maj. Jarvis, a former B-29 bomber commander and F-89 fighter pilot, is a guidance counselor at Kimberly High School. Capt. Strom is postmaster at Ogdensburg and owns and operates a farm nearby. He is a World War II veteran of 50 B-25 bomber missions in the Mediterranean theater. All three officers will attend a state meeting of liaison officers May 20 at Trux Field, Madison, and will participate in a national conference Oct. 18 to 22 at the Academy near Colorado Springs, Colo. They also will be required to serve at least one two-week training tour at the Academy. Maj. Jarvis will perform his liaison officer duties in southeast Outagamie County, Brown, Door, Manitowish and Manitowoc counties.

Weak Muscles Factor

Exercises Help Prove Theory on Back Pains

BY ARTHUR J. SNIDER
Chicago Daily News Service

CHICAGO — Few people are more sedentary on the job than psychoanalysts. Their physical inactivity gave Dr. Hans Kraus an opportunity to test his theory about back pain.

Dr. Kraus, a New York physical medicine specialist, believes that low back trouble frequently is caused by weak supporting muscles. In the individual whose job compels him to maintain the same posture for relatively long periods, muscle tension and pain also is produced.

He examined 52 analysts to see whether people of high intellectual ability could compensate for their sedentary way of life.

Prescribes Exercises

They were taught a set of exercises and were asked to perform them at home at least once a day for 5 to 20 minutes.

They also were encouraged to do such simple office activity as changing chairs frequently when working, allowing a five minute interval between patients, walking up and down the room or performing some mild exercise.

They were asked to engage in some physically active recreation as walking, swimming, tennis or gardening on weekends and on one week day.

Twenty-six of the 52 analysts were followed 2 to 10 years. Of these, 22 had pain not only in the low back but also in the high back, neck and shoulders.

All Show Improvement

Of the 26 who appeared for final examination following the course of exercises, eight no longer had pain and 18 had "definite relief from pain." All showed considerable improvement in muscle strength and flexibility. Dr. Kraus reported in the American Medical Assn. Archives of Environmental Health.

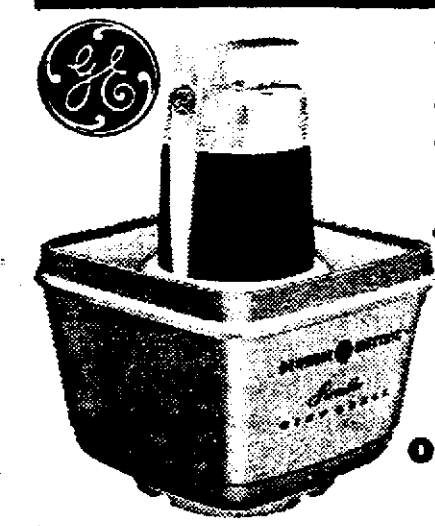

The physician then sent a questionnaire to 750 members of the American Psychoanalytical Assn. to gain an impression of the magnitude of complaints among analysts, possible due to under-exercise and unreleased tension.

A total of 489 questionnaires were returned. Of these, 144 exercised and had no pain; 107 did not exercise and suffered pain.

Forty-seven had pain that was relieved by exercise; 32 had pain despite physical activity; 29 did not exercise at all and had no pain.

Forty-four reported disc disease; 66 could not be evaluated.

State Warns Firms of New Insurance Law

Sale of Life Policies With Profit-Sharing Must End June 15

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Life insurance underwriters who have begun selling so-called coupon or profit-sharing policies have had a bleak warning from the state insurance department.

Such sales are illegal in Wisconsin, and the department will act against any company that offers such special sales promotion after June 15, Commissioner Charles Manson said in an order issued this week. The department announcement specified that such sales as have already been made of such policy types will remain in force, without interference by the state.

The state order followed a hearing last January on proposals for such a rule after complaints were received about such sales.

The department said the General Life Insurance company of Milwaukee and the Franklin Life Insurance company of Springfield had been selling such policies, and that other firms had indicated an interest in joining them.

Disclosed Premiums
The new state rule also said that in the future the premiums for special types of life insurance must be fully disclosed and separately stated when written in the same policy with other contract provisions.

Said Manson:
"Life insurance contracts, more than any other kind of insurance, are made on the basis of the utmost good faith of the company. It is fundamental that the provisions of such contracts be devised with clarity and precision. The commissioner has an obligation to see that the public interest be served and the statute complied with by refusing to accept policies that are or tend to be misleading or deceptive."

"The coupon, charter, and profit-sharing type of policies contain provisions which misrepresent the actual insurance coverage purchased by a policyholder."
Manson's announcement also declared that "the adoption of the rule should not disturb or cast doubt about the validity of previously issued contracts of the type described. Such contracts were issued in good faith by the insurance companies, and there is no retroactive impact of the rule."

Fulton Lewis III To be at Young GOP Convention

Two more speakers have been added to the list of persons appearing at the 1962 Wisconsin Young Republican Convention, in Sheboygan, Friday through Sunday.

William Kasa Kaitas, secretary and treasurer of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau, and Fulton Lewis III will join the Hon. Donald C. Bruce, (R-Ind.), and Hon. Henry C. Schadeberg, of Wisconsin's 1st Congressional District, in addressing the 300 expected delegates.

Kasa Kaitas has served as legislative director for the Farm Bureau and has made many appearances before legislative committees and agencies in behalf of the bureau. He recently drafted the tax revision bill, that passed both houses and was then vetoed by the Governor.

Fulton Lewis III is a speaker and lecturer on behalf of youthful conservatism. He has worked for the House Un-American Activities Committee in various capacities, and Mr. Lewis, who is a key figure in the Young Americans for Freedom, will deliver a message entitled "Or Die By Suicide."

Receive 'Very Good' Rating

Civil Air Patrol Cadets Conduct Search in Alert for 'Downed' Plane

"Aircraft missing!"

This warning brought 24 Civil Air Patrol cadets out of Fox Cities schools Monday and triggered a complex series of search and rescue activities.

The "aircraft" was made of red chilton and no one was injured—but everything else about the practice mission was realistic. The cadets received a "very good" rating from senior CAP officers judging their work on their first "SAR-CAP," as the simulated search and rescue mission is called.

Did Not Know Date

The cadets have been preparing for the mission for about two months, but did not know the actual date until they were notified Monday. They arrived at the Outagamie County airport shortly before 2 p.m., and the three search aircraft left about 2:30 p.m.

The problem given the cadets was to find the location of a simulated air crash of a single engine

Communism Course Backed By Head of National Legion

Charles Bacon Makes One of Three State Stops at Little Chute

BY RAY PY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

LITTLE CHUTE — Civic and social science teachers throughout the nation will soon be encouraged to teach Communism in their classrooms using materials prepared by the American Legion in cooperation with the National Education Association.

At the same time, Charles L. Bacon, national commander of the American Legion, called for stronger demands that the government not allow Communists to appear before educational groups and on college campuses.

Bacon, in a speech Tuesday at St. John High School, and in a press conference before his main address to Legion officials and the public, said the Legion has established guidelines which will enable teachers to present Communism "as it really is."

'Proper Education'
Bacon is making three appearances in Wisconsin. He will visit Tomah today and will be in Milwaukee Thursday. He is a former department commander from Kansas City, Mo., and has served as national commander eight months.

The manuscripts which Bacon said would be in print next week were labeled by Bacon as the finest works on the subject (Communist) he has ever seen. He said the work was a sustained effort in the Legion's "proper" education program for America.

The commander said the Legion also is backing the continued and absolute opposition to the seating of Red China in the United Nations, and encourages a continued buildup of the armed forces.

Spread Propaganda
"We must also make every effort to speed the day when we will gain clear superiority over the Russians in space exploration," the national commander said.

A stronger effort to spread American propaganda abroad must be made by American people.

Judge Cane Hits Over-Emphasis on Material Things

OSHKOSH — Judge Arnold J. Cane Tuesday night told Oshkosh High School teachers that many of the ills of the country, for both adults and juveniles, can be laid at the doorstep of over-emphasis on material things in life and under-emphasis on spiritual values.

Speaking at the teachers' annual faculty dinner at the Raulff Hotel, Judge Cane said—"The truly happy person is one who emphasizes spiritual things in life and recognizes that service to others as a way of life is a true ingredient of happiness."

He said that most of the people who have been before his court the last two years lack proper moral training and religion. Some claimed church membership, he said, but when pinned down they admitted their participation was only superficial.

Lawrence Will Build Room for Transformer

Lawrence College is adding a $3,000 transformer room to the southeast corner of Alexander Gymnasium, 1100 E. South River Street. The room will house equipment to provide new power service to the Institute of Paper Chemistry and to the gymnasium. Most of the room is below ground.

Miss Casper's name will be the first engraved on a 10-year trophy which will be displayed in the speech school. She also received a personal trophy and $15.

The competition was sponsored by Sigma Sigma Epsilon, a speech education fraternity. Judging was based on a 50 point system emphasizing the contestants' understanding of the material and ability to communicate to the audience, and the literary quality of the piece.

Appleton Doctor Heads Mental Diseases Group
Dr. Keith Keane, Appleton, has been appointed head of the State Medical Society's division on nervous and mental diseases, which works in an advisory capacity with state departments.

The society also directed its charitable, educational and scientific foundation to make a health survey of Menominee County, which was formerly the Menominee Indian Reservation. The committee will report to the society's meeting, which will then set up the Haag, all of Appleton, and Gerald Helf of Combined Locks, health needs of the county.

Owner Wants Route Changed

Resident Complains Of Trucks Going Past His Home

Jack Gebert, 427 E. South River St., wants the public safety committee to change a truck route that goes past his house because of the noise and rattling of windows caused by large transport trucks.

Gebert wrote several letters to the committee complaining about the trucks using South River Street between Oneida and Lawrence streets. He appeared at the committee meeting Tuesday.

Committeemen told him there is nothing they can do about the trucks, even if the street was not on a designated truck route.

Shortest Route
They told Gebert that state law allows trucks to use the shortest route to their destination after they leave a designated route. The trucks that service industry in Appleton's flats can use any street in the area to get to the plants, the committee said.

Gebert said he was told other cities prohibit large trucks from using city streets, and confine them to the highways.

Committeemen said they didn't see how such an arrangement could work and still allow normal business to be conducted.

Recently Added
The portion of E. South River Street where Gebert lives was added to the city's truck routes only recently, and replaces a portion of Fremont Street as a truck route. The remainder of South River has been a truck route for more than 20 years, committeemen said.

The change from Fremont Street was made, the committee said, because since the reconstruction of South River it is a better truck route.

'Miss Appleton' Speech Winner At Marquette

Miss Barbara Casper, the new "Miss Appleton," won the first annual interpretive reading contest at Marquette University with the same selection she read in the "Miss Appleton" contest.

No Top Soil Approved for Former Ravine

Board Says Appleton Fulfilling Agreement With Landowners

The board of public works says Appleton has no obligation to provide special drainage or place top soil on private property in the Packard Street ravine.

Property owners there have asked the city to fulfill a 1950 agreement with them, which they claim called for the city to provide drainage and top soil when the ravine was no longer used for a dumping site.

Ald. Al Stoegbauer, who represents the owners, submitted a resolution to the council asking compliance with the 1950 agreement.

Board members studied the agreement Tuesday. They found it says that after the ravine is no longer needed for a dump the city would cover the refuse with dirt and grade it. There is no mention of top soil or special drainage facilities.

The city has been hauling in dirt, the board said. Some was hauled in last fall and dumped in piles because the ground was too wet for heavy equipment. Those piles have been flattened. But the fill has not been graded because of soggy ground in which a grader would get mired. The ravine will be graded when it is dry enough.

Board members said, and more dirt will be hauled in this summer. The department of public works says it is not advisable to grade the ravine level with the rear yards of the property owners, because after rains there would be standing water in all of the back yards.

By giving the ravine a slight saucer shape the water drains to the lower, center portion. To drain the ravine completely would require storm sewers, it was pointed out.

Building the ravine higher than surrounding property would mean getting water in the basements, board members were told.

Appleton Park Board Approves New Equipment

The Appleton park board opened bids and awarded contracts Tuesday for a truck, tractor, tree limb chipper and caddy wagon.

Sherry Motors, Appleton, submitted the low bid of $3,215 for a flat bed truck. There were three other bids, with the highest at $3,520.

Horst Engineering and Equipment Sales, Chilton, was the only bidder for the tractor, at $2,495. It will have a dump truck type body, and will be used for hauling ground.

Aring Co., Milwaukee, submitted the lowest of two bids for the limb chipper, at $3,150. The other bid was $4,550.

The one caddy wagon, costing $400, will be used by golf course personnel to go around the course and direct traffic when the number of golfers causes congestion.

Board members decided that complaints to the board must be made in writing or by a personal appearance before the commissioners.

Complaints no longer will be taken over the telephone, they said.

Training Session Planned by Catholic Women's Council

Plans for a training session for Diocesan Council of Catholic Women officers were made at the quarterly board meeting at the St. Joseph Home for Children in Green Bay Saturday. Mrs. Hubert Wetak, Appleton, DCCW president, presided.

The training session will be held June 30 at Sacred Heart Seminary in Oneida for all standing deanery committee chairmen and deanery presidents. The program will start at 10 a. m. A tea for the Sacred Heart TV program committee is planned for 2 p. m. The Rev. Eugene P. Murphy, S. J., will present an illustrated lecture on the City of the Sacred Heart.

Mrs. Anthony Skarvan, Green Bay, diocesan Catholic girls' camp chairman, announced that there are openings at the camp for the first two weeks and the last week. The season runs from June 24 to Aug. 18. Camp chairman for Appleton is Mrs. James Long.

Fox Cities women attending the meeting were Mrs. Wetak, Miss Mary Kettenhofen, and Miss Marie the Haag, all of Appleton, and Gerald Helf of Combined Locks, them.

Couple Says Cash Stolen From Home

Police are investigating a report that a large amount of cash may have been taken from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Becker, 707 S. Mueller St. sometime Tuesday.

Becker told police he and his wife returned from work about 5:15 p.m. Tuesday and discovered the money missing. Becker said the money was spread throughout the house in envelopes and bill-folds and he had no accurate knowledge of how much may have been taken, but the amount may be considerable.

Entry was made through a downstairs window, from which the storm window was removed. The window apparently was unlocked. Becker said four bill-folds in a cardboard box and several envelopes had been emptied and strewn about the bedroom dresser drawer where they were kept. Becker said the money was birthday and anniversary gifts.

No Sign Found Of Man Drowned Near Oshkosh

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County authorities today held little hope of finding the body of Adolph Niski, 46, one of two Milwaukee men who drowned Monday morning, until the body floats to the surface.

Dragging operations were continuing today in Lake Butte des Morts in an area where officials believed the current may have carried Niski's body.

Niski and Frank Roszak, 54, drowned at 4 a.m. Monday when their boat capsized in Lake Butte des Morts, about 75 feet north of the U.S. 41 bridge. Roszak's body was found several hours later near the spot the boat tipped.

Two other Milwaukee fishermen in the boat, Edward Krzewinski, 41, and Herbert Wescon, 45, were rescued by the Oshkosh police boat crew.

Carley to Talk To Democrats

David Carley, state director of resource development, will be the speaker Thursday at the monthly meeting of the Outagamie County Democratic party.

The meeting will be held at the Kaukauna Labor Hall, 315 Crooks Ave., at 8 p.m.

Future Plans Call for Work In All Age Groups; Council Sets Operation in Appleton

The Catholic Activities Council, Inc., of Appleton was organized formally Tuesday night, and will begin its work by conducting a youth program this summer.

Future plans call for expanding activities to include all age groups, up to and including the senior citizens.

It is expected that when the program is fully developed it will offer adult educational opportunities, dramatics, music and art in addition to the youth activities.

The formal organization meeting was held in Xavier High School. About 70 laymen, seven priests and school attended. Three discussion meetings preceded the organizational session.

Use School

Xavier High School facilities will be used for the summer youth program, which will include dances, movies, basketball, volleyball, badminton, softball, indoor table games, crafts and instructional talks on such things as golf, archery and baseball.

There will be a canteen in Xavier High School with a TV lounge. It is hoped several trips to Milwaukee Braves games can be arranged.

Eugene Clark, Xavier High School coach has been hired as youth director. He is planning a schedule of activities and will have it ready soon. A woman will be hired to oversee girls' activities. Some programs of special interest to girls are being planned.

The young people who join the CAC summer program will be given the opportunity to help plan activities, it was decided.

Msgr. John Conniff, director of the youth department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, Washington, D. C., spoke at the meeting Tuesday.

"Today's young people have more leisure time than ever before in history," he said. "How they use that time is vitally related to their future health and welfare, both materially and spiritually."

Msgr. Conniff said that for CAC to be a success it will have to offer an attractive program, and the young people should be allowed to help plan the activities.

Competition For Time

"Even though they have more leisure time than ever before, the competition for that time is greater than ever before too. You'll have to meet the competition," the monsignor said. "Whenever someone goes into business the first thing he looks at is the competition. You have to do the same," he said.

In illustrating the need to help young people Christianize the use

Barbershop Chapter Gets Class B Award

KAUKAUNA — For the fifth straight year, the Kaukauna-Little Chute SPEBSQSA Chapter was named winner of the Achievement Award for Class B cities in the Land O' Lakes District competition.

This represents areas or cities having under 20,000 population. The champions garnered 2,563 points to beat out Indianhead which had 2,262 points. Twenty-nine cities were represented in this category. Winning in Class AA for cities over 100,000 was Madison with 2,953 points while Class A winner was Winona with 2,499 points. This is cities between 20,000 and 100,000.

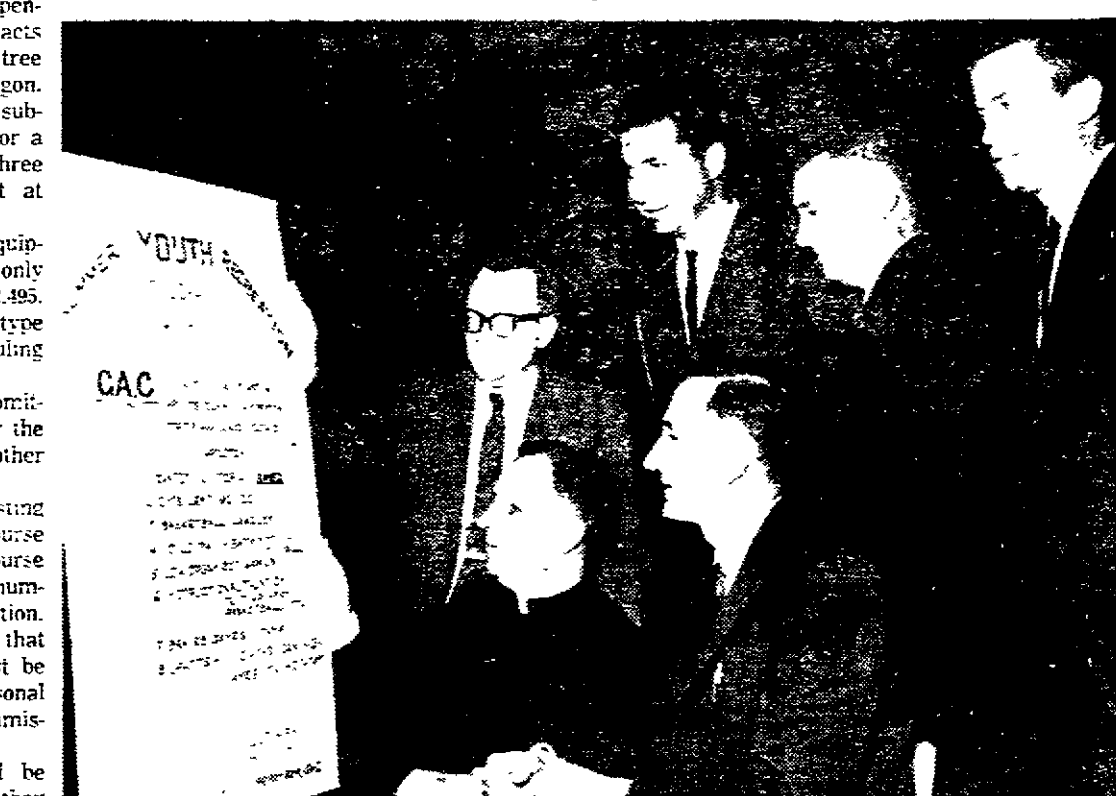

Points are gained for appearances of the chorus, quartets, parades, membership, bulletins, newspaper clippings, floats, chapter shows, sponsoring a new chapter, convention attendance of delegates and other areas. Class B has the largest number of entries followed by Class A with 26.

Altar Society At Holy Cross Names Officers

KAUKAUNA — Election of officers was held at the last meeting of the Holy Cross Christian Mothers Altar Society. New officers will be installed at a fall meeting.

Elected were Mrs. Fred Reuter, president; Mrs. John Jansen, vice president; Mrs. Merritt Kavanaugh, secretary; Mrs. Ben Verhaagen, treasurer, and Mrs. William Derks, card party chairman.

Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held in the church basement May 23 with Mrs. Joseph Huss and Mrs. Peter DeBruin as co-chairmen. A mother-son communion breakfast is planned for June 3.

2,370 Golf Balls Recovered at Oshkosh

OSHKOSH — Recovered this week from a ditch along County Trunk GG near the Chicago and North Western tracks east of Oshkosh were 2,370 golf balls. They were found by Richard Schultz, 202 Third Ave., Sunday while he was walking along the road with a companion.

Robert Mugerauer, Oshkosh, operator of the Par 3 driving range on State 21, identified the golf balls as being part of the approximately 2,500 taken from his driving range April 27. The balls had been left on the course in containers and someone had broken into the course and taken them.

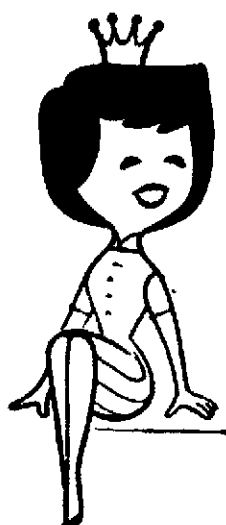

Six-Year-Old Girls Alone In Home Blamed for Fire

Two 6-year-old twin girls left St. saw smoke coming from the back door of the Szuicewski home. She said she went to the home and found the two girls trying to put out the fire.

Mrs. Stillman took the two girls to her home and called the Appleton Fire Department.

Kuehni said he was told by the fire chief that three older children Roland Kuehni they were playing with matches and lighting candles in the kitchen of the home. Girls are left alone in the home Marient went into the living room from kindergarten until 3 p. m. and the cushions caught Szuicewski said his wife has been dead about four years.

The two girls attempted to put the fire out with water from the city welfare department of the kitchen before a neighbor, Mrs. case and an investigation is to Lester Stillman, 725 E. Hancock, be made.

Two Arraigned on Morals Charge

OSHKOSH — Two Oshkosh peo- ple were charged with adultery when arraigned in Winnebago County Court this morning on complaints signed by the pair's respective spouses. Bond of $250 was ordered for preliminary hearing May 18 for Peter Paulick, 21, 127 W. South Park Ave., and bond of $100 for W. Wisconsin Ave., with taking indecent liberties with an 11-year-old girl ended before noon today. The 12-man jury is expected to return a verdict sometime this afternoon. The trial which was delayed at its start Tuesday because the Outagamie County Sheriff's De- partment had to select seven jur- ors from off the street, received another delay at its opening to- day. Three of the 12 jurors failed to show for the trial which was to get underway at 9 a.m. The court called the three absent jurors and two appeared at 9:30 a.m. A third refused to sit on the trial because he said his wife was sick. Undersheriff Donald Hein- ritz was ordered to bring the juror to court. Four of the seven persons se- lected from the street Tuesday were selected for the 12-man jury.

The trial which was delayed at its start Tuesday because the Outagamie County Sheriff's De- partment had to select seven jur- ors from off the street, received another delay at its opening to- day. Three of the 12 jurors failed to show for the trial which was to get underway at 9 a.m. The court called the three absent jurors and two appeared at 9:30 a.m. A third refused to sit on the trial because he said his wife was sick. Undersheriff Donald Hein- ritz was ordered to bring the juror to court. Four of the seven persons se- lected from the street Tuesday were selected for the 12-man jury.

Two Teachers Resign at Hortonville

9 Classrooms May Be Decorated at Union High School

HORTONVILLE — The board of education of Hortonville Un- ion High School has received the resignations of Mrs. Ruth Qual- mann and Robert Nugent. Mrs. Qualmann, girls physical educa- tion instructor and librarian, is moving to Green Bay because of her husband's business transfer. Nugent is the social science in- structor and has accepted a posi- tion at New Berlin High School. Principal George Akin report- ed Mrs. Priscilla Vanden Heu- vel, the former Miss Swan, has been hired to teach English, called into the school office by speech and French. She formerly taught at Hortonville and has will be warned if problems con- in Middleton, Ohio, for the time he or she is automatically expelled from school. The report received from the Department of Public Instruction trict reorganization was discuss- on the Hortonville High School ed. larger types of refrigeration available. The painting of nine classrooms this summer was discussed. Akin is to contact local contractors for bids on the jobs. Charles Smith, industrial arts instructor, attended the meeting and discussed the matter of the large number of students in the program. Akin and Smith were in- structed to report to the board at the next meeting. Hortonville Union High School has an anticipated enrollment for next year of 394 students, which will make it the largest in the Little Nine. Ernest Broeseman, music in- structor, presented a three-year program to the school board in music. The board authorized the purchasing of a B flat Sousa- phone, E flat clarinet, B flat bass clarinet and a piccolo. The board of education discuss- ed regular discipline of students in the high school. A motion was passed that any student creating a discipline problem and contin- uing to do so after warning will be been hired to teach English, called into the school office by speech and French. two of the search planes back, and shortly after Lt. Hack's plane landed about 5 p.m. the weather closed in completely. The grading team, composed of Lt. Col. Earl Wooden and Major Armin Graf, gave the cadets a "very good" rating for finding the target in a short time with the weather closing in. They had high praise for the operations of- ficers. "SARCAs" are conducted regu- larly for the senior CAP, but this was the first the cadets had conducted. They had two "paper" missions, at which everything was done on paper at a meeting, with the actual flying the only thing missing. In an actual emer- gency the cadets could not fly but would be able to help in other areas. The mission commander was Warrant Officer Jerome Riedel, commandant of cadets. Operations officers were cadet Captain Carol Mirache, a student at Neenah High School, and 1st Lt. Larry Morgan, Appleton High School. Airman 3rd class David Eggert, Roosevelt Junior High School was communications officer. Second Lt. James Else, Appleton High School, served as ground safety officer. Other mission leaders were Mas- ter Sgt. John Hubers, St. Mary School, Menasha, security officer; Master Sgt. Jean Felton, Appleton High School, first aid officer, and 2nd Lt. Paul Vanderheiden, Xavier High School, ground search officer. Observers in the aircraft were Maichetske, George Williams, Me- nasha High School; Ronald Weis- man, Roosevelt Junior High School, and Thomas Svoitek, St. Mary High School. "Riedel thanked the school princi- pals for their cooperation in noti- fying the cadets and letting them leave school."

History of Wills, Estate Planning Told by Attorney

MENASHA — The development of wills and estate planning from the days of ancient Egypt to the present was traced for the Me- nasha Kiwanis Club Monday eve- ning by L. R. Johnson, Menasha attorney. After describing the wills of Saladin, a world conqueror of the past, and John Alden, one of the legendary founders of New En- gland, Johnson noted that there are many similarities between these testaments and those made out at present. He told club members what a will can and cannot do, and briefly touched upon the "dower rights" of a wife in her husband's estate. Only by making out a properly executed will can a man be cer- tain that his estate will be dis- tributed according to his wishes, Johnson emphasized.

Julie Nixon Struck On Head by Ball Bat

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Julie Nixon has a bump on her head—and no wonder. The former vice president's daughter was bonked on the head with a baseball bat Tuesday. "She is home, under a doctor's care, recovering. The doctor says Julie, 14, was watching a softball game Tuesday at a private school where she is in the ninth grade. A pitch came in wide of the plate and the girl at bat scooted over to swing at it. She missed the ball. But she hit Julie. Julie's mother, Pat Nixon, took her to a doctor and then home."

of their leisure time, Msgr. Con- niff singled out the abundance of smutty magazines that are avail- able to almost every age group. "It used to be that the most ris- que thing boys ever saw was the Police Gazette. Today that's as tame as a Sunday school les- son," he said. Community Support A youth program must be open and attractive to every young person in the community, the monsignor said. Complete community support, both from the young people and the adults, is going to be neces- sary to make CAC a success, he pointed out. That support is particularly important when it comes to fi- nancing a program of the scope that CAC intends to develop, he said. More money is going to be needed than the group which at- tended the Tuesday night meet- ing are going to be able to raise by themselves, he indicated. Msgr. Conniff advised that CAC consider asking for United Fund Services assistance. "You already have complied with the four main prerequisites for getting united fund, assis- tance," he said. "You have de- veloped a comprehensive pro- gram, you have secured your own facilities here at the high school, you have hired professional help to conduct the program and you have shown that you can raise some money of your own so that you will not be a dead weight on the united fund." The CAC has been offered a substantial loan at no interest to get started. Other interest free loans have been offered. Some donation offers have been re- ceived. There is enough money available to conduct this year's summer program. After that it is hoped that donations and sup- plemental assistance from the united fund will finance the pro- gram. Others Get Aid Msgr. Conniff said that Catholic youth programs in many cities get aid from the united fund. He listed Detroit and Toledo as ex- amples of larger cities where aid is received and East St. Louis, Ill., as an example of a smaller city. Program Director Eugene Clark is preparing the summer activi- ties schedule and will have it ready soon. A woman director will be hired to conduct a girls' program. Some activities of par- ticular interest to girls are being planned. There will be an assembly at Xavier High School today to ex- plain CAC to the students. However, it was pointed out, CAC is not an exclusive organiza- tion for Xavier students. All young people in the community are welcome. Committee Chairmen Committee chairmen were ap- pointed Tuesday. Ray Rickert will be in charge of membership; Stuart Locklin, Arlo Callahan and Mrs. Gene Berchler, program; Louis Wilson, constitution and by- laws; Greg Thompson, inter- fraternal societies relations; Donald Long, liaison; Richard Van Sil- time, external finance; and Wil- liam Wachendonk, internal fi- nance. Spiritual directors will be the Rev. Alfred Lison, John Feeney, John Van Deuren, Raymond Za- gorski and Robert Smith. Father Lison, who acted as chairman of the initial organiza- tions meetings has received ap- proval of CAC from the Most Rev. Stanislaus V. Bona, bishop of Green Bay. Pastors of the six parishes in Appleton also have ap- proved it.

Highway Week Tours Planned

State Legislators, Local Officials to Inspect Road Work

The second annual National Highway Week, May 20-26, will be highlighted in Wisconsin by tours, meetings, open houses and win- dow displays in every area of the state. One group of legislators and newsmen will be taken on a fly- ing inspection tour over various sections of the state under spon- sorship of the Wisconsin Good Roads Association. Another group, including local officials, will be taken from Mad- ison to U.S. 41 and up through the Fox River Valley to study the adequacies and inadequacies of highway development in eastern Wisconsin. Arrangements for this year's observance are announced by Co- Chairmen Lester Palmer, Mauston, Good Roads president, and Commission Chairman Har-vey Grasse. County highway officials will serve as coordinating chair- men in their respective counties. The County Highway Commis- sioners' and Committeemen's as- sociations voted at their mid-Winter Highway Conference to partic- ipate in this year's observance. Officers of the two associations have assisted in planning the Highway Week events. Officers of the Commissioners' Association who have attended planning sessions are Cassius R. Hughes, Florence, president; Walter A. Klub, Juneau, vice president, and Clarence J. Brown- son, Appleton, secretary. Com- mitteemen are Carl Thompson, Deer Park, president; Millard L. Kemmel, Brownsville, vice pres- ident, and Robert P. Janssen, West DePere, secretary.

Elks Members Dance in Garden Setting At Annual Buffet Dinner and May Ball

Chatting over cocktails preceding the buffet dinner and May Ball Saturday evening at the Appleton Elks Club are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Godhardt and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sensenbrenner, above. The flower laden May Pole, right, attracts the attention of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hass and Mr. and Mrs. William Gmeiner, Neenah. The pole was decorated with artificial flowers and vines. The streamers from the top of the pole were attached to the table replicas of birds. Mr. and Mrs. Gmeiner had charge of arrangements for the ball.

Cocktails and a buffet dinner preceded the annual May Ball at 6 p.m. Saturday at the Appleton Elks Club.

The ballroom was transformed into a garden for the event with live geraniums lining a brick wall around the bandstand. Pastel colored streamers decorated the ceiling.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gmeiner were co-chairmen of the ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis LaSalle, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Berner, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Lillge, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ornstein, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Acker, Mr. and Mrs. Reider Rasmusen and Mr. and Mrs. Russel Peotter served on the committee.

Marriage Performed

Mrs. Joan McCarthy and Merle Wichman were united in marriage at noon Saturday at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church, Neenah. The Rev. James Craanen officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Quinn, 336 Main St., Neenah, and Mrs. Fred Wichman, 1908 N. Owassa St., Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Quinn attended the couple.

A dinner was served at the Valley Inn, Neenah. The couple will honeymoon in northern Wisconsin.

The bride is employed at Kimberly-Clark Corp., Neenah. Her husband is employed at Marathon Division of American Can Co., Neenah.

Tell Troth of Patricia Cane, Karl V. Kraske

MENASHA — County Court Judge and Mrs. Arnold J. Cane, 200 Lake St., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Joan to Karl V. Kraske, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Kraske Rumford, Maine.

Miss Cane received her bachelor of arts degree in English from Lawrence College. She was affiliated with Phi Beta Phi sorority. She is teaching at Sun Prairie High School.

Her fiance was graduated from the University of Maine with a bachelor of science degree in chemical engineering. He received his master of science degree from Lawrence College. He is completing his doctoral research at the Institute of Paper Chemistry, Appleton. Mr. Kraske is a member of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering society, Phi Beta Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity, and Phi Eta Kappa fraternity.

The couple will be married in June at St. Patrick Catholic Church.

Arriving at the Appleton Elks Club Saturday evening for the May Ball are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Berner. The annual event included cocktails, buffet dinner and dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Brenner served on the committee.

Reception to Honor T.M. Dietrich, Wife

A "Meet the Artist" reception will be held each May since he has been on the college staff, summarizing his work of the previous year. Mrs. Dietrich has been represented in many Lawrence exhibits. This is her first major collection of paintings to appear in the Worcester Art Center.

The public event is co-sponsored by Lawrence College, where Dietrich is artist in residence, and the Lawyers' Wives of Outagamie County.

Mrs. Harry Hoeftel, 331 W. Sixth St., is chairman of the reception. Officers and board members of the Lawyers' Wives group assisting with the reception are Mrs. Walter Brummond, treasurer of the Lawyers' Wives of Wisconsin; Mrs. Don Herrling, past president of the local organization; Mrs. Fred Froehlich, president; and Mrs. Joseph Shuff, president-elect.

Committee Listed

Hostesses will be Mrs. Harold Bravick, treasurer; Mrs. Hugh Nelson, secretary, and board members Mrs. Edward Byrne, Mrs. Lester Chudacoff, Mrs. Ray Dohr, Mrs. Gordon Gill, Mrs. Harry Hoeftel, Mrs. W. S. Pfankuch and Mrs. William Schuh.

Mr. Dietrich, who has been artist in residence at Lawrence since 1944, has won a wide reputation through prizes, commissions, and having his work selected for important jury shows. His wife, a Lawrence alumna, has been an art supervisor in public schools in Indiana and Illinois and currently teaches a children's class at the Worcester Art Center on Saturday mornings.

A Sept. 15 wedding is planned. Mr. Dietrich's shows have appeared at the Junction Greenhouse at 4:30 p.m. Friday is planned by Washington School Girl Scout leader, assisted by Miss Sandra Butler.

U. S. Approval of Merger Sought by Railroad Leaders

Stockholders Okay Joining of Central, Pennsylvania Lines

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads turned their efforts today to persuading the federal government that their proposed merger, endorsed by stockholders of the two huge lines, was in the public interest.
The merger plan highballed through simultaneous annual meetings of the railroads Tuesday, the Pennsylvania's in Philadelphia and the Central's in Albany, N.Y. The endorsement was overwhelming.
The proposal next goes to the Interstate Commerce Commission where it is expected to face a seven test. Rail officials predicted ICC hearings beginning in mid-summer with approval of the merger by the end of next year. The Transport Workers Union, which claims 30,000 members employed by the two lines, said in New York City the proposed "monopoly merger jeopardizes our national safety" and "threatens wholesale slaughter of railroad jobs."

If the merger goes through, the combined system—to be called the Pennsylvania New York Central Transportation Co.—would have assets of about $5 billion, 20,000 miles of rail routes, and 120,000 employees.
The merger is the largest ever proposed. The Pennsylvania has greater assets than any other U.S. railroad. The Central ranks third, behind Southern Pacific.

State Doctors Pledge Never To Refuse Care

Treatment Promised To Aged Under Any Type of Program

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wisconsin physicians have pledged never to refuse medical care to any of their patients who need it no matter what action is taken on federal proposals for health services to the aged.
The action was taken late Tuesday at the annual meeting of the House of Delegates of the State Medical Society of Wisconsin. The delegates said it was taken to clarify the attitude of Wisconsin's doctors toward a statement by 250 New Jersey physicians that they would not abide by provisions of such federal legislation.
The resolution stating the Wisconsin position was passed unanimously by the House of Delegates, the governing body of the society.

New Jersey Stand
It stated:
"To the best of our knowledge the New Jersey physicians have not in fact intimated that they would refuse to render medical aid, but only that they would refuse to complete the reports or accept the payments authorized under the proposed King Anderson bill."
"At no time, under any circumstances, will we as physicians refuse to render medical care to any of our patients who need it solely because of the mechanism of payments for such services."
The society added that the action in no way lessens its criticism of the King Anderson type legislation which sets up care for the aged under Social Security. It adopted another resolution reaffirming this stand.

The delegates also promised support of a proposed highway safety center at the University of Wisconsin.
Seat Belts
Advocated use of seat belts in automobiles by all physicians and the general public.
Urged physicians to participate in sports injury prevention and control programs.
Urged colleges and universities to provide more extensive health education to students preparing for careers in teaching.

Expressed the view that the health insurance plan of its division, Wisconsin Physicians Service, was better designed to meet the needs of state residents over 65 than the proposed national plan of surgical medical nursing home benefits.
The meeting, which continues through today, has drawn more than 1,500 physicians.

Kuehn Chides John Reynolds

Claims Democratic Candidate Has No Specific Program

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Philip Kuehn, a Republican candidate for governor, said Tuesday night that Atty Gen John W. Reynolds should be "challenged every time he speaks, until he commits himself to some specific program for the state."
Reynolds, the only announced Democratic candidate for the state's top post, has said he would base his campaign on a ten-year program to solve Wisconsin's problems.
Kuehn spoke at Glendale with Robert J. Sher, a GOP aspirant for attorney general who charged that Reynolds uses his office as "campaign headquarters for governor."
Farm-City Relations
Wilbur Renk, Sun Prairie farmer who seeks the Republican gubernatorial nomination, said at Clinton that farmers and businessmen in small communities should get together.
Renk said that a combined utilization of farm and forest products in areas around small towns would add jobs and reverse the tide of young persons to larger communities in search of more opportunity.
A third GOP candidate for governor Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles, said at Milwaukee that all Americans must contribute to the free enterprise system if this country is to out-perform its enemies and achieve "the fullness of the future."

Former Socialist Leader Dies in West Denmark
WEST DENMARK (AP)—Funeral services were held in this tiny Polk County community Tuesday for George A. Nelson, 88, Socialist candidate for vice president of the United States in 1936.
Nelson, Norman Thomas' running mate in that election, was a University of Wisconsin regent for seven years and former state president of the Farmers Union. He was not related to Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

Catholic Brother Swept Over Horseshoe Falls
NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Brother Constantine Sandner, 68, of the order of the Brothers of the Holy Infancy of the Roman Catholic Church, was swept over the Horseshoe Falls Tuesday.
A coroner's verdict was withheld pending recovery of the body.
Identification was made by witnesses from photographs found among effects left nearby, police said. Brother Constantine had served in institutions in Lackawanna for more than 40 years.

Macmillan Confirms Danger To U. S. Nuclear Deterrent
Chicago Daily News Service
LONDON—The fact that the entire nuclear deterrent force of the United States may be subject to immobilization by Russian anti-missile devices was finally confirmed officially in the British House of Commons by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today.
Macmillan made the momentous disclosure in an almost off-hand manner while defending the decision of the United States to detonate three hydrogen bombs at altitudes of up to 500 miles in June and July.
After reminding the House of Commons that the experiments were to be conducted from the American territory of Johnston Island which is not under British control, and that dangers from fallout and flash were not expected to be serious, Macmillan went on to say:
"The purpose of this experiment is of the greatest importance from the point of view of defense, for it is intended to find out how radio, radar and other communications systems, on which all defense depends, might be temporarily put out of action by explosions of this kind. Since the whole defensive system of the West depends largely upon a highly developed method of intercommunication it will be seen that this matter is of the greatest significance to our defense."
Although he refused to say so, Macmillan based his views on the scientific facts on the opinion of William Penney, deputy chairman of the United Kingdom Atomic Energy authority and Britain's most eminent nuclear physicist.

Conditions for Joining Market Given by Labor

Gaitskell Wants Commonwealth Retained If Britain Enters Economic Community

BY WILLIAM H. STONEMAN
Chicago Daily News Service
LONDON—Four conditions have been laid down by the British Labor Party for Britain's entrance into the European Common Market.
Defining his party's position in a 15-minute political television broadcast Tuesday night, Hugh Gaitskell, the party leader, said that labor would agree only on condition that:
—It did not mean the ruin of British agriculture.
—That Britain's partners in the European free trade area were not left in the lurch.
—Economic Control
—That Britain did not lose the right to plan and control its own economy.
—Most important of all, that the interests of other members of the British Commonwealth were protected.
Gaitskell warned that "links with the commonwealth could be broken if we were committed to going into a federal state of Europe. That would be the end of the commonwealth and we couldn't have it."
Gaitskell defended the party's refusal to take a definite position for or against Britain's participation in the Common Market on the ground that the conditions for Britain's entry were not yet known.
"We haven't had the negotiations yet," he said.
"Best Solution"
Summing up his position he concluded:
"To go in on good terms would, I believe, be the best solution to this difficult problem. And let's hope we can get them. Not to go in would be a pity but it would not be a catastrophe. To go in on bad terms which really meant the end of the commonwealth would be a step which I think we would regret all of our lives and for which history would not forgive us."
Gaitskell's rejection of Britain's participation in a federal state of Europe coincided with a reported

Electric Chair Fails, Convicts Get Delay

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP)—Trouble with Florida's electric chair delayed the scheduled execution of two convicted murderers today. Warden Dewitt Sinclair postponed the execution of Robert Lee Jefferson and Johnnie Hill until Saturday at 8:30 a.m.
They will be the first to die in the new death house at state prison. Sinclair said when the equipment was given a routine check it didn't function properly.

The India-Bhutan road takes on added significance because of Red Chinese activities along the northern Himalayan borders.

Your Problems

Slip-of-the-Tongue Does Not Indicate Man's Unfaithfulness

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: About that man who had to sleep on the lumpy couch because he accidentally called his wife by his secretary's name — honestly? Our society is becoming so psychological that every innocent phrase takes on deep significance. A person can't hiccup anymore without someone wondering what it means.

Landers

A man who calls his wife by his secretary's name may well be innocent. My mother had five children. She was forever calling me by my older sister's name. She called my younger sister by my name. And she called my brother Richard, which was my father's name. A psychiatrist could have a ball with that one.

The very morning I read your column about the mixed-up names, my boss called me by his wife's name. I know good and well he wasn't thinking about his wife. The old goat has three girl friends that I know of. —Down with Sig-mund.

DEAR DOWN WITH: I agree there are too many people who read one paper-back on psychology, then go in for do-it-yourself psychoanalysis.

A man who calls his wife by someone else's name should not be banished to the couch for unfaithfulness. The slip of the tongue could mean something, true enough — but it could mean nothing, too.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Mr. and Mrs. J. were pleasant and friendly. We spent many social evenings together. Then Mrs. J. Co., Appleton. Her fiancé is employed at Western Electric Co., Appleton. No wedding date has been set.

the gift ($22.00) on my account and sent the gift with our joint signature on the card.

We both received thank you notes, and Mrs. J. allowed as how she was pleased that I'd taken the load off her mind. I reminded her that it was reasonable, too — only $22.00. She said "I'll mail you a check for my share."

That was five weeks ago. It occurred to me that I am a chump.

My husband says, "Skip it and learn your lesson. Don't go in for any more joint gifts with Mrs. J." Is he right? My blood comes to a slow boil when I think of how I shopped for two hours to find just the right gift and then paid for only $22.00. Any comment? —Bilked.

Dear Bilked: Your husband is only half right. You should not go in for any more joint gifts with Mrs. J. But I don't agree that you should "skip it."

Drop Mrs. J. a note in the mail and remind her of the money she owes you. If the note fails to produce results it's probably a lost cause, and your lesson will have cost you $11.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are having a small argument. I hope you can settle it.

I love to knit, and if I say so myself I have made some beautiful sweaters, argyle socks and dresses. I make my own patterns and have received loads of compliments on my work. My husband says that anyone who can sit for hours and do the same thing must be feeble-minded. He claims it's a sign of a limited mentality.

On the other hand he can play gin-rummy until 3 a.m. I've seen him sit in front of the TV set for hours at a stretch, watching junk that our 9-year-old walks away from. When I remind him of this he says it's altogether different. How about it? —Knit-Wit.

Dear Knit-Wit: Simple knitting requires limited skill, but a woman who can knit an argyle sock has my undying admiration.

As for gin-rummy, any baboon who can hold ten cards can play it. And my opinion of 80 per cent of the TV fare is well known. It takes no brains whatever to sit in front of the boob tube and watch anything that moves.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sheinwold Safety Play Loses Game

The right way to play a suit depends only partly on the cards you hold in that suit. You must also consider the contract and the nature of the early play.

When this hand was played in a rubber bridge game, recently, declarer won the first trick in dummy with the king of diamonds and took a "safety play" in trumps.

South played the hand so safely that he went down.

The safety play should be familiar to all students of the game. Declarer led dummy's ace of spades at the second trick and then led a low spade toward his hand. When East followed with a low spade, South finessed with the nine of spades.

West won with the queen of spades and led another diamond. East ruffed, hardly believing his good fortune, and South had the problem of explaining it all to his partner.

Wrong Time

It may have been the right play, but it was the wrong time. The first trick should have warned declarer of the danger. You can't afford a safety play in trumps when the defenders threaten to beat you with a ruffing trick.

The safety play would have been correct with a club or heart opening lead. It would have been perfect if the contract were six notrump.

The purpose of the safety play is to avoid the loss of two spade tricks. If East has Q-10-x-x of spades, the finesse of the nine limits East to one trick. If West has four trumps, East will show out on the second round; and South can play the king and return a spade toward dummy's jack.

Because of the diamond threat South should have drawn trumps at once with the ace and king. With the queen falling, South would make an overtrick instead of going down one.

Daily Question

With both sides vulnerable, dealer at your right bids 1 NT (16 to 18 points). You are next, holding: S K 9 3 2 H K 5 D A 32 C A Q 8 4. What do you say?

Answer: Pass. If the double is for takeout you will rescue the opponents and land yourself in the soup. If the double is for penalties, you have no assurance of defeating the contract.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. My 14-year-old dog has swollen legs caused by water in the tissues. Please advise me if this condition can be cured? Miss C. Smith, New York City.

A. Everything that is eaten or drunk contains some water which is absorbed by the body and later eliminated. Sometimes, particularly in older animals, the processes that control this elimination do not always function properly and water is held in the body tissues. This is commonly referred to as dropsy. Usually the heart or kidneys are involved. Many times changes which have taken place in these organs are irreversible and we can only provide relief of the symptoms. The use of diuretics and careful control of water and food intake will greatly relieve your dog and make him more comfortable for a little while. I am sorry to say that many of these cases eventually have only one outcome.

Stronger Yet Safer—Gives Hours Of Relief From Minor CHRONIC PAINS OF ARTHRITIS

...even pains arising from deep in joints and bones so it's easier to move afflicted limbs again.

New York, N.Y.—No cure has yet been discovered for arthritis. And doctors constantly warn against fake remedies which claim to have "the answer."

But sufferers have found a way to get hours of the most comforting relief from arthritis and rheumatism's chronic minor pains. It's a combined action (both analgesic and anti-inflammatory) that relieves even pains arising from deep in joints and bones. Thus sufferers find they can move with greater freedom again. And this movement helps avoid "locked" joints.

The product that's giving such fast and effective relief is Anacin®. Anacin contains a stronger yet safer combination and may be taken as directed as often as needed without upsetting the stomach. Unlike aspirin or buffered aspirin which contains only one pain reliever—Anacin is different and gives you extra medication. You see, Anacin is like a doctor's prescription. That is a combination of medically proven ingredients. In minutes—Anacin brings remarkable "all-over" relief.

Anacin even contains special medication that works to reduce inflammation and swelling of tissues that causes so much suffering. When such pain goes, it's easier to move afflicted limbs about. This mobility helps keep joints from "locking." See if stronger yet safer Anacin doesn't work better for you!

SEAMS TO ME

By Patricia Scott

Questions On Sewing

If something looks as though it needs mending, don't put it off until it's too late to do it. If you do, it may be too late to save it.

Q. I have a couple of skirts that seem to be fraying a tiny bit at the side seams. It isn't bad, but I'm afraid to wear them again for fear they'll really come apart. Can I try to save them in any way? Miss H. M. C.

A. If the fraying is just starting, you can reinforce the seams with tape or seam binding. Restitch the original seam line and press the seam open. Place the tape over the seam on the wrong side, with tape covering both sides of seam equally, and baste. Turn dress to right side and stitch along both sides of original seam. If only one seam needs reinforcing, I suggest you stitch the corresponding seam on the outside too, so the one will not look obviously "patched."

Q. I have a large bust and must alter all bodice patterns. I know how to do this to a regular blouse, but how do I enlarge a piece of paper under it, separate the two pattern pieces the necessary amount, and pin to the paper. Don't forget to do this, because your seam lines will be unequal if you alter only the side front piece (figure 2).

Q. I have trouble stitching bias seams on skirts. Either the seam draws, or the stitching line breaks after I wear it and sit down. Is there anything I can try to solve this? Mrs. M. J.

A. A row of stay stitching on the curve you traced out as far as is necessary and pin pattern to paper. Draw new seam lines slightly in one of two ways. 1. As you machine stitch, stretch the seam very, very slightly as you would when you sew on jersey. But don't pull it too much. Or, 2. pin the seams together along the bias seam lines and hang the skirt from a hanger overnight before stitching. I always use the first method.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers, and whenever possible will use their questions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail received daily, she cannot answer individual letters.

Patricia Scott has prepared a booklet, "How To Alter Your Dress Patterns," which gives complete instructions for altering so that finished garments will fit perfectly. For your copy of this guide to correct fitting, write to Patricia Scott in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover costs of printing and handling.

Flea Market Offers Old Clothes in Fashion Today

BY PAUL GHALI

PARIS—History keeps on repeating itself—and that goes for fashions too.

Clothes our grandmothers used to wear, as time went by, became ridiculously obsolete, but now again are the latest word. Women of today are going to no end of trouble to find the blouse, or the petticoat our mothers would best-sellers, are "matinees" or not have dared to be seen in old-fashioned bed-jackets, which The Flea Market is one place after undergoing a few alterations where such antiquated garments tions, the women of 1962 wear can be found in Paris—the genu- over tight, tapered slacks. Pimples Appear on Table Top

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q I revarnished an oak table top after removing the old finish. Now that it is dry, there are a lot of pimples or blisters filled with air all over the table top. What do you recommend?

A The new varnish finish should be removed and the job done over. You may have introduced air bubbles (or blisters) into the varnish by stirring it in the container. Or bubbles can also be caused by brushing the varnish on too vigorously or "slapping" it on the surface. Proper technique is to flow the varnish on gently, following the direction of the grain of the wood. Don't worry about ridges made by the brush, these will flatten out by themselves.

Q We have a detached garage in the rear of our house. In order to avoid continuing to have to back out into the rear with the car, we want a build a concrete apron in front of the garage so we can turn around. Where can we get information about building this?

A Detailed specific information of this type is available on request from your local office of the Portland Cement Association or write to them at 3 West Grand Ave., Chicago 10 Ill. ask for the free booklet on "Concrete Improvements Around the House."

Q We have green and white fiberglass awnings the white has turned a grayish color. I have used detergent and water but it doesn't seem to help. Is there a special cleaner for fiberglass?

A Try washing the awnings with a solution of one-half cup trisodium phosphate to the gallon of warm water, followed by immediate rinsing with plenty of clear water, be careful to keep the cleaning solution away from any contact with painted surfaces as it may soften the paint.

Avoid Abrasives No specific cleaner is required for fiberglass but harsh strong abrasives should be avoided. However if subjected to extreme weathering after about five years (depends on climate), the surface may become eroded only the appearance being affected. This can then be restored by applying a plastic refinish available at fiberglass paneing dealers.

Q I have a chicken coop, 20 feet by 40 feet, that has no ventilation system in it. Where can I get a plan to follow so I can install a ventilating system myself?

A I suggest writing to the Department of Agriculture, Washington 25 D.C. for information of this type. Or get in touch with your local grange or county agent.

SIGNING DOCUMENT

Our local Medical Auxiliary sponsored an essay contest for high school students. Prizes were Award Certificates, printed with the auxiliary seal and lines left blank to be filled in. At the bottom was a space for the president and chairman to sign. As president, should I have signed my name as Mary Doakes or Mrs. Joseph Doakes? I have always been taught that you never sign your name as Mrs. but as Mary W. Doakes under which in parentheses is the name.

Davis

Doakes or Mrs. Joseph Doakes. In our case, there wasn't enough space for both. My chairman insisted that I sign Mrs. Joseph Doakes. She is an older and very prominent woman but her statement doesn't ring right. Please let me know the correct procedure for a sum's signature on a formal document such as this one.

Louise Davis Answers:
Not knowing the exact wording on the certificates, I can't be 100 per cent certain as to whether they required your name or your signature. I think I have an accurate guess that they required your signature, Mary W. Doakes. The parenthetical Mrs. Joseph Doakes wasn't necessary, especially because there wasn't space. You are correct that one never signs Mrs. before a signature.

House Committee Votes Gold Medal For Bob Hope

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Banking and Currency Committee, usually concerned with matters involving big money, laid aside such affairs Tuesday to give swift approval for a gold medal for comedian Bob Hope "in the name of the people of the United States of America."

Chairman Brent Spence, D-Ky., interrupted a hearing on export controls to listen to Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., who is piloting the gold medal resolution through Congress. It already has been passed unanimously in the Senate.

Symington said of the wisecracking comedian that no man has given more generously to traveling to entertain American troops abroad. He noted that such medals have been struck for song-

Counties Won't Get Land Zoning Power

Legislative Committee Says That There's No Chance of Bill Passing

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
MADISON—An effort to attack the problems of urbanization in the populous counties of Wisconsin by strengthening the land use zoning powers of county boards has apparently met a quick death.

One-Third of Students Ride School Buses

Total Costs for Transportation Now Total $15 Million

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The integral relationship of the school bus to the public education system of Wisconsin is documented in the annual review of school transportation operations of the state published by the State Department of Public Instruction.

The school bus service is in the limelight today as never before because of the litigation in the state supreme court involving the attempt of the legislature to make parochial and private, as well as public school pupils, eligible for rides in the tax-financed school transport network.

Last year slightly more than one-third of all the public school pupils of the state were riding to their classes at public expense, the highest ratio in history. The ratio of high school pupils being transported was higher, amounting to nearly 43 per cent.

Total Cost
The total cost for such service, largely financed through state treasury appropriations in the form of subsidies to local school districts, arose to nearly $15,000,000 during the year.

Whether the school transportation load and the expenditures budget will increase with the eligibility of the non-public school pupils will be resolved before the next school term begins in the fall.

Court Agrees
The supreme court, which agreed to take original jurisdiction in the argument about whether such an extension would be valid under the constitution, has indicated that it will deliver its judgment in June to permit school authorities to make their plans for their fall in season.

Theodore Sorenson, state school transport supervisor, has reported that the average school bus in the state transports 52 pupils daily, over a route 23 miles in length, picks up a rider every half mile, is a 1957 model with a seating capacity of 48, travels about 54 miles each day, and about 9,400 miles annually on the school service routes.

The cost works out to about $62.85 per pupil per year, or about 35 cents per pupil per day, and slightly less than 35 cents per bus mile in the state, with costs in the urban zones ranging up to 65 cents per bus mile. There are now 4,515 buses of 12 passengers or more of capacity, traveling nearly 43,000,000 miles yearly on their school routes.

use zoning powers of county boards has apparently met a quick death.

Members of a special legislative committee on urban problems reported privately that there is virtually no chance for their endorsement or the legislature's enactment of the plan advanced by state planners to repeal the veto power of town boards over the application of county zoning laws.

The measure encountered the direct opposition of the Wisconsin County Boards Association, which claimed that such enactment would set back progress in zoning and regional planning, rather than advance it.

Not Accepted
A. J. Thelen of the association pointed out that town board chairmen sit on county boards, and sometimes constitute a majority of their membership. If the law is changed to compel the towns to accept as law within their boundaries land use rules adopted by the county board, those town board chairmen are unlikely to be persuaded to adopt the county ordinance in the first instance, he explained.

The argument apparently had a telling effect among the committee members, who turned to a discussion of the wisdom of giving the county board exclusive zoning authority on more limited problems, such as those attending highway interchanges for the protection of the traffic arteries, and those involved in the control of developments on flood plains for the general public interest.

About 25 of the counties of the state have thus far adopted zoning ordinances, but not all of them are completely effective within their boundaries.

More Interest
Authorities in the field, however, have reported increasing public interest in the subject lately and expect that there may be some enlargement of zoning legislation under the present laws.

Several county officials told the legislative group that substantial progress has thus far been achieved under the voluntary law.

Fred Parker, veteran chairman of the Grant County board, described the growing concern in his community about land use controls for best recreational development, but said that under the compulsory rule proposed the county would never adopt a zoning ordinance.

Good Land
"Under the present law, some day we'll have a good and workable county land use zoning law," he said.

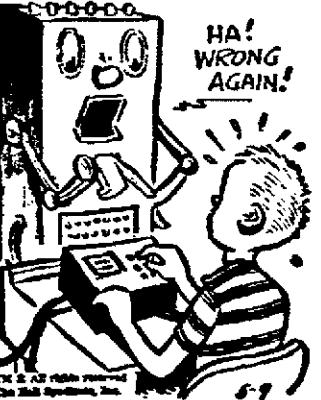

The theme was echoed by officials of Dane County, which includes the capital city of Madison, who noted that only a few towns endorsed the Dane County land use law when it was adopted by the county board in 1938, but that about 54 miles each day, and about 9,400 miles annually on the school service routes.

"It demonstrates that this will work out, given a little time. But shove it down their throats and you'll defeat your purpose," said William Lorenz, an assistant district attorney of the county.

Castro Probed In Dramatic Show Today

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 (Channel 2) — The Circle Theater looks at Castro's Cuba from a viewpoint which will be fresh to most Americans. And that is how the advent of Castro seemed to the decent, democratically inclined Cubans. Harry Townes plays one such, a newspaperman exiled by Batista who returns to Havana full of hope. His gradual disenchantment with Castro makes a poignant story, especially when one of his sons (Robert Drivas) succumbs to the Castro line.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 2) — Checkmate only incidentally considers crime tonight, for its basic story is simply of two people in love. They are Macdonald Carey, as a Washington do-gooder, and Kathleen Crowley, as a young secretary. Apparently somebody wants them apart, for the girl is the target of some bumbling threats which account for Checkmate's presence.

8-9 (Channel 4-5) — The Perry Como Show has Caterina Valente as guest star, but it is house dancer Peter Gennaro who comes off best this week. He helps Perry and Caterina with the opening — "A Couple of Song and Dance Men" — and whirls through his own solo to "Fascinatin' Rhythm." Perry and Caterina sing and dance and also strum guitars at one point. North Carolina is the honored state this week.

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — The Dick Van Dyke Show repeats an episode which takes a standard comedy plot — wife misinterprets husband's late night work and becomes jealous — and makes it seem fresh with the sparkling dialogue of Carl Reiner.

9-9:30 (Channel 4-5) — The Bob Newhart Show — which is in a precarious spot despite winning many awards — continues with bright comedy this week. Tonight's show has an overall theme — tourists in Paris — and lets Paul Weston and the orchestra have a few moments of glory. Basically, the show is a series of vignettes which take Bob to Paris. (Color)

9-10 (Channel 11) — Romanians in New York are the stars of Naked City, which has a strange story of ancient revenge and ancient customs in a modern city. The chief figures are Akira Tamiroff, as a banker who is still hated by many for some half-forgotten childhood cowardice, and Nehemiah Persoff, as one of those who still remembers.

9:30-10 (Channel 4-5) — David Brinkley's Journal was to have two items this week, but found so much good stuff on one that they decided to go with this single feature. It's a look at the possible effect of increased postal rates on magazines. The most irate publisher is Playboy's Hugh Hefner, who is seen in his Chicago club, with his bunnies in the background. (Color)

10:20-12 (Channel 4-5) Tonight's guests are Pamela Mason, Theodore Bikel and Woody Allen. (Color)

Signs of Recovery Appear as Part of Losses are Erased

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was sharply lower early this afternoon but showed signs of vigorous recovery as it moved up from its lowest level. Trading was active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.70 at 243.10 with industrials down 2.80, rails off .60 and utilities off .80.

Losses of fractions to a point or 2 among key stocks were scattered liberally through the list even though many declines were cut.

Among the volatile issues, declines ran 2 or 3 points while some gains were in the same range.

General Motors fell 3/4 to 52 1/2 on an opening block of 14,600 shares, soon widened the loss to 3 1/2, then cut the drop to 1 1/2.

Other motors were soft but later turned, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors showing plus signs.

IBM was down 7 at worst, erased the loss and showed a gain of 4 1/2, then backed away to a net decline of a point or so.

Steels were mixed, Bethlehem and U.S. Steel showing slight losses while Republic and Jones & Laughlin were up a bit.

Kellogg was down more than 3 but Xerox rebounded more than 3 and Lutton Industries was up a couple of points. Du Pont showed a loss of around 2. Polaroid was up more than a point.

23 Plant Supervisors Complete KVS Course

KAUKAUNA — Twenty-three men from area industries completed a supervisory training institute Tuesday at the Kaukauna Vocational and Adult School. Dr. Russell L. Moberly was the instructor.

This is the second institute held this year, the first attracting 28 supervisory personnel. Plans are underway for an advanced course to be offered in October, according to Dominic Bordini, school director.

Age at noon was 660.43, showing a loss of 3.47.

Prices were off sharply on the American Stock Exchange in moderately active trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were irregularly higher.

Appleton Pair Hurt in Crash Delay Wedding

Two Appleton young people were injured in a collision east of Fond du Lac Sunday evening, forcing postponement of their May 19 wedding.

Miss Sandra Hankwitz, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hankwitz, 2122 N. Morrison St., and Francis Coffey, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Coffey, 2302 N. Drew St., were injured when their car and another car collided entering State 23 at an intersection 14 miles east of Fond du Lac.

They were taken to St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac, and were transferred to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Appleton, by Larry's Ambulance Monday evening.

Miss Hankwitz suffered a fractured pelvis, a broken collarbone, a broken right hand, a seriously cut eye and other cuts. Coffey suffered severe cuts to the face and head and an injured foot.

Yes...The Mother of God WILL Help You!

You may not approve of the age-old Catholic devotion to the Blessed Virgin. Perhaps you have heard—and believed—that this is "un-Scriptural"... that Catholics are trying to establish Mary as a divine person equal in power to God.

But if you will look at the facts, you will see that these things are not true...and you will realize that Mary can exert a wonderful influence in your personal life.

It certainly is not "un-Scriptural" to recognize that Mary is the Mother of Jesus Christ. If we are to be truly "Scriptural," we must further acknowledge that Christ is the eternal Son of the eternal Father—a Divine Person who assumed a human nature like ours in all things except sin. And while Mary did not give Jesus His divine nature, the Savior was her Son...as truly as anyone is the son of his own mother.

In view of these truths, how can anyone look upon Mary as just another woman, or just another mother? Why should we hesitate to honor one whom God so greatly honored...and upon whom He conferred a surpassing holiness and complete freedom from sin? Why should we believe that one so close to the Son of God in His earthly life is not close and dear to Him in His eternal Kingdom?

It is erroneous, of course, to think that Catholics worship Mary as a divine person. But we do love and venerate her for the unique place she occupies in God's plan for our salvation...for her intimate association with the all-holy Son of God...for her own holiness.

But, you may say—why should we pray to Mary when we can pray directly to God, as the Scriptures command? The answer is that Catholics do pray to God and they seek from Him grace and forgiveness—for these are blessings which only God can grant. But there is no law of God which commands us, when we go to Him in prayer...that we must go alone.

Like St. Paul, we believe in praying for others and having others pray for us. And whose prayers could find greater favor in the sight of God than those of the Mother of His Divine Son?

These are the chief reasons for the world-wide Catholic devotion to the Blessed Virgin. These are the reasons why millions of people, in every land and every language, are heard to pray:

"Hail, Mary, full of grace! the Lord is with thee; blessed art thou amongst women; and blessed is the fruit of thy womb..."

We have prepared a special pamphlet dealing with Mary's place in the Christian creed, which we will send you free. Nobody will call on you. Write today for Pamphlet AP-24.

Yes...The Mother of God WILL Help You!

You may not approve of the age-old Catholic devotion to the Blessed Virgin. Perhaps you have heard—and believed—that this is "un-Scriptural"... that Catholics are trying to establish Mary as a divine person equal in power to God.

But if you will look at the facts, you will see that these things are not true...and you will realize that Mary can exert a wonderful influence in your personal life.

It certainly is not "un-Scriptural" to recognize that Mary is the Mother of Jesus Christ. If we are to be truly "Scriptural," we must further acknowledge that Christ is the eternal Son of the eternal Father—a Divine Person who assumed a human nature like ours in all things except sin. And while Mary did not give Jesus His divine nature, the Savior was her Son...as truly as anyone is the son of his own mother.

In view of these truths, how can anyone look upon Mary as just another woman, or just another mother? Why should we hesitate to honor one whom God so greatly honored...and upon whom He conferred a surpassing holiness and complete freedom from sin? Why should we believe that one so close to the Son of God in His earthly life is not close and dear to Him in His eternal Kingdom?

It is erroneous, of course, to think that Catholics worship Mary as a divine person. But we do love and venerate her for the unique place she occupies in God's plan for our salvation...for her intimate association with the all-holy Son of God...for her own holiness.

But, you may say—why should we pray to Mary when we can pray directly to God, as the Scriptures command? The answer is that Catholics do pray to God and they seek from Him grace and forgiveness—for these are blessings which only God can grant. But there is no law of God which commands us, when we go to Him in prayer...that we must go alone.

Like St. Paul, we believe in praying for others and having others pray for us. And whose prayers could find greater favor in the sight of God than those of the Mother of His Divine Son?

These are the chief reasons for the world-wide Catholic devotion to the Blessed Virgin. These are the reasons why millions of people, in every land and every language, are heard to pray:

"Hail, Mary, full of grace! the Lord is with thee; blessed art thou amongst women; and blessed is the fruit of thy womb..."

We have prepared a special pamphlet dealing with Mary's place in the Christian creed, which we will send you free. Nobody will call on you. Write today for Pamphlet AP-24.

Freddie Miller, Former 'Feather' Champion, Dies

CINCINNATI (AP)—Freddie Miller, world featherweight boxing champion from 1933 to 1936, died Tuesday. He was 51.

Cause of death was not immediately announced but it was believed Miller was suffering from a heart ailment when he was admitted to the hospital Monday.

Miller, whose boxing career ran from 1927 to 1940, won the featherweight title on Jan. 13, 1933 with a 10-round decision over Tommy Paul at Chicago. He lost the crown to Percy Sarron on May 11, 1936 by a 15-round decision.

Record books show Miller fought 237 times. He won 210, lost 22, had 2 draws and 3 no decisions.

Billy Martin Says He Rejected Lucrative Japanese Contract

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Billy Martin said Tuesday he has turned down a contract for an "awful lot of money" to play with a Japanese baseball team.

The former Yankee star said he had received a 2-year playing contract from the Chunichi Dragons for "over $30,000," but formally turned it down.

Martin, who held the Minnesota Twins second base job last season but lost out this year to rookie Bernie Allen, now works as a special scout for the Twins. He also has a public relations job with a brewery.

"I'm happy with my current setup," Martin said, but added the Japanese team "offered me an awful lot of money."

Outfielder Al Kaline, of the Detroit Tigers, who hit for a single, triple and home run against the Angels at Los Angeles Tuesday night, gets safely into third on his third inning triple. Felix Torres makes the play for Los Angeles. The Tigers pounded out a 10-1 victory.

NFL Isn't Worried About Owens Case, Declares Pete Rozelle

WISNER SAYS PRO Football Is Pricing Self Into Bankruptcy

NEW YORK (AP)—The case of R. C. Owens playing out his option with the San Francisco 49ers, then signing with the Baltimore Colts does not worry the National Football League, Commissioner Pete Rozelle indicated today.

"We are not concerned," he shrugged. "The cases of players playing out their options are not unique."

The 6-3, 195-pound Owens, a pass-catching specialist, shopped around both leagues before signing with the Colts. Presumably they made him the best offer.

"Most players prefer to stay in the area where they play and where they have roots, business associates and are active in the community," Rozelle added.

But owner Harry Wisner of the American Football League New York Titans, warning that professional football is pricing itself into bankruptcy, called for a reserve clause similar to that which keeps baseball players on one team unless they are traded or retire.

In pro football, the player merely must notify his club if he wants out of his contract. Then he plays out his option for the next season for 90 per cent of his salary, and he is free.

"The war between the leagues has boosted playoffs 25 per cent," said Wisner. "Now the tug-of-war for players inside the leagues will hike it another 15 per cent. In a majority of cases in both leagues, the players are making more than the owners."

"If Owens can do it, what is to stop Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers or Johnny Unitas of the Colts from playing out their options and then putting themselves on the block to the highest bidder?"

Wisner said the players are getting fabulous salaries compared with their actual value.

"They're in a position to demand more and more," he pointed out, "especially since this inter-league war is going on. Pretty soon I expect the dam to break and we'll all drown."

The Fox Cities Foxes, who have been idle in the Midwest League since Sunday, will try to get back into action tonight at Dubuque.

The Foxes and the Packers are scheduled to play a doubleheader tonight. Tuesday's series opener was postponed because of wet grounds.

In the only two league games played, Clinton edged Decatur, 5-3; and Waterloo thumped Burlington, 14-1.

Clinton won its first game of the young season with a 3-run rally in the eighth. Decatur absorbed its third straight loss.

Left-hander Ernie Kumerow pitched a 5-hitter for Waterloo. Ron Morrisette hit a home run for the winners in the second with no one on.

Badgers Defeat Notre Dame, 3-2

MADISON (AP)—Alan Nau hit a bases-loaded double in the fifth inning to drive in two runs that gave Wisconsin a 3-2 nonconference baseball victory over Notre Dame Tuesday.

Ron Nelson, second of three Badger pitchers, took over from starter Ron Krohn in the fourth and gained the victory before being replaced in the seventh. The Irish, who scored both their runs in the second, were limited to four hits.

Giants Beat Cards, Lead by 4 Games

Jackson's 2-Year Jinx Halted, 4-3

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The rampaging San Francisco Giants smashed Larry Jackson's jinx at eight games Tuesday night by beating the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3. The victory enabled the Giants to stretch their lead over the second-place Cardinals to four games.

Jackson, who was chased in the eighth inning when the Giants scored twice to break a 2-2 tie, had not lost to San Francisco since the Candlestick Park inaugural in 1960.

Successive doubles by Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou broke the tie in the eighth. Then Ed Bailey, who had struck out twice with runners in scoring position, singled home what proved to be the winning run.

Many Guesses Over 2 Players Braves Will Cut

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves try again to open a series with the Pittsburgh Pirates at County Stadium tonight with the ax hanging over two heads.

After a postponement because of cold weather Tuesday night, Manager Birdie Tebbetts went into a huddle with his coaches and then General Manager John McHale.

The Braves, like other National League clubs, must trim their roster to the 25-player limit by midnight tonight. With Lee Maye on the disabled list, that means two players must go.

The arrival of the outcudown limit touched off speculation. There were many guesses, and that's what they were. Nothing but guesses. A top bet, however, was that right-hander Tony Cloninger, plagued by illness, may be farmed for more experience.

Others who many observers think aren't ready for major league play include Amado Samuels, Howie Bedell and Lou Klimchek. However, this is a rebuilding year for the Braves—and Tebbetts and McHale are determined to go with young prospects. So the "official" cut down talk remained a secret as County Stadium felt like the polar region.

Undergoes Surgery

Maye underwent sinus surgery Tuesday at Milwaukee Hospital. Since one pinch-hitting appearance in the opening game of the season at San Francisco, he has been hospitalized except for a flight to Milwaukee.

The fleet outfielder, whose illness originally was described as a virus infection, was reported in "much improved" condition. However, he will be out of action at least until next month as a player cannot come off the disabled list for 30 days.

Third baseman Eddie Mathews, the team's top slugger with six homers and 21 runs batted in, is out indefinitely with a right shoulder injury. Mathews pulled a muscle in fouling a pitch in the first inning of Sunday's second game of a doubleheader against Houston.

Denis Menke, a $125,000 bonus into the fold is my biggest program by the Braves a few years ago, took over for Mathews against the Colts and had a double in three times at bat. Menke will remain at third for the Pittsburgh series.

Right-hander Ron Piche, owner Bears have been reluctant to sign of a 1-0 record, is scheduled to oppose the Pirates tonight. His probable mound opponent is Earl Francis, who has a 1-2 record.

"We have been told that the Bears have been reluctant to sign of a 1-0 record, is scheduled to oppose the Pirates tonight. His probable mound opponent is Earl Francis, who has a 1-2 record."

Outdoor Club Will Meet Tonight

Sunday's opening race at Kaukauna will be discussed by members of the Wisconsin Stock Unit Outdoor Racing Association at its meeting at Edgar's Yacht Club at 8 p.m. today. A discussion of pleasure crafts competing in WSURA races also is on the agenda.

Mets Defeat Cubs, Vacate NL Cellar

Only 1,369 See Jay Hook Hold Chicago to 4 Hits, Win 3-1

CHICAGO (AP)—The New York Mets emerged from the National League basement for the first time Tuesday, being supplanted by the jittery Chicago Cubs who succumbed before Jay Hook's four hit pitching, 3-1.

Hook, obtained by the Mets as a $125,000 premium draftee from Cincinnati, completed his second game of the campaign for a 2-1 record.

Casey Stengel's team, fashioning a two-game winning streak, posted a 5-16 standing for 238 against the Cubs 6-20 for 231.

It was only the third time the Mets had pried a full game hurling job out of their staff. The young right-hander struck out three and walked two.

Two New York runs were unearned as the Cubs opened the battle of the cellar series before 1,369 fans—smallest turnout of the season.

Drops Short Fly
The Mets scored in the sixth inning when Felix Mantilla walked, Charlie Neal singled and left fielder Billy Williams dropped Frank Thomas' short fly for a two-base error.

They went ahead with a pair of runs in the seventh. Bob Anderson, who replaced starter Don Cardwell in the sixth, walked Hook and Jim Hickman in succession with two out. Mantilla singled to right and George Altman let the ball skip through his legs, letting Hook and Hickman score.

The Cubs only run was tallied in the first by lead-off man Lou Brock. He beat out a bunt, stole second, took third on a wild pitch and scored on Williams' sacrifice fly.

Only extra base blow yielded by Hook was a wasted double by Ken Hubbs in the fifth.

The Mets collected seven hits off four pitchers, pinning Anderson with his fourth loss without a victory.

Coach Vince Lombardi has set July 15 for the opening of practice for rookies. Veterans will report two days later.

The champs could begin work-outs a few days earlier but Lombardi has decided against it, he told a press and radio-TV dinner Monday night.

"The All-Star Game poses a problem," said Lombardi. "That has been his history. You have to get ready for it because you are carrying the prestige of the whole league and it's on national television. But getting sharp too early can cause a letdown sometime later in the season."

Lombardi said he didn't know whether the Packers' servicemen, including linebackers Paul Hornung, Eliza Pitts and Herb Adderly, end Boy Dowler and linebacker Ray Nitschke, would be available for the All-Star Game, but he added "I certainly hope so."

Ray Buchberger Slams 562 Set
Ray Buchberger smacked a 562 series to set the pace on the final night of bowling for the Beer Couples League at the 41 Bowl.

The only other honor score recorded was a 350 set by Bob Schulz.

Millers and Hamms finished in a tie for the league championship with 29-13 records. In a 1-game roll-off, Millers won the trophy.

Darryl Hill, Negro Grid Prospect, Drops Out of Academy

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Darryl Hill of Kentilworth, Md., who had prospects of becoming the first Negro to play on Navy's varsity football squad, has dropped out of the Academy.

The Academy said he resigned effective Tuesday. In keeping with policy, it gave no reason for the resignation.

Hill, a first string left halfback on the Plebe team last fall, scored seven touchdowns and kicked five extra points. He was a fourth string right halfback with the varsity in spring.

Laver, Emerson Plan to Turn Pro, Says Writer

MELBOURNE (AP)—Australian Davis Cup stars Rod Laver and Roy Emerson are planning to turn professional, Melbourne Herald tennis writer Alan Steward reported today.

Steward said Laver and Emerson, who are in Rome for the Italian Championship, are expected to leave the amateur ranks after the Davis Cup challenge round in Brisbane, in late December. They are expected to receive a guarantee of at least $33,600 each over two years but Steward quoted professional Frank Sedgman as saying they could earn much more than that through tournament winnings.

Vanderbilt's Only 16-Letterman Dies

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Robert E. Blake, collegiate football great and the only 16-letter athlete in the history of Vanderbilt University, died Tuesday at his home in suburban Webster Groves. He was 77.

Blake, once described by sports writer Grantland Rice as "the only halfback who never lost a yard around right end," was a Rhodes Scholar and a lawyer. He also was president of the 1943 Missouri constitutional convention.

Blake, who was born in Cuero, Tex., had been in poor health for several years.

The game was played in 40-degree temperatures, and errors were frequent as the cold numbed players hands.

The Purple Raiders counted three runs in the first, two in the second, three in the third and another pair in the fourth. Kaukauna scored single tallies in the first and second, added another in the fifth and closed out the scoring with two in the sixth.

The Ghosts had an 8-7 advantage in the hitting department but winning hurler Jim Rehauer kept them well spaced. Rehauer recorded six strikeouts.

Steve Hilgenberg went the distance for the Ghosts and fanned Gary Weigman, John Lambie and Bill Elliott each had a pair of hits for the Ghosts. One of Elliott's safeties was a triple in the sixth.

Burrell had played with the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

He leaves his widow, Mary.

Platteville Cage Aide Takes Janesville Post

JANESVILLE (AP)—Stanley J. Du Frane, assistant basketball coach at Platteville State College, was named head coach Tuesday of Janesville High School. He succeeds Robert Krueger, who resigned to become head coach at Stevens Point State College. Du Frane ranks as fifth among all-time individual scorers at Stevens Point State, where he was graduated in 1953.

ARD Boys' Baseball Program Will be Set Up Saturday

A meeting of team captains in the Appleton Recreation Department's boys baseball program will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in Morgan School.

All captains are to have their teams organized and the roster of 12 players ready to present to league officials at the meeting. Team registration cards and uniform permits will be distributed, and movies will be shown. Parents may also attend.

Registration cards and uniform permits must be filled out as soon as possible after the meeting and returned to the Recreation office, City Hall, not later than Friday, May 11.

Baseball Sidelights

Several ML Teams Have State Hurlers

BY RALPH MUELLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Clinton hurler John Bauer should be familiar to Wisconsin fans. Two years ago, the left-hander hurled his Auburndale High School team to the state championship by beating DePere, 1-0.

Another Clinton player, Bill DiCrosia, played with Lincoln in the Three-I loop last season. DiCrosia and former Foxes' hurler Dave McNally became friends when DiCrosia played at Billings, Mont. several years ago.

Bob Kleinke, of North Fond du Lac, is a member of the 10-man pitching staff of the Quincy Jets.

In 1959, Kleinke hurled his North Fond du Lac High School team to a 2-1 victory over Neenah in the WIAA District tournament in Fond du Lac. He threw a no-hitter at the Rockets until the seventh when Jim Sauby singled.

During the summer months, Kleinke hurled for the Fond du Lac American Legion team.

Two Stevens Point hurlers will be with Midwest League clubs this season. Jim Shuda is a member of the Clinton C-Sox squad, while Ray Orlikowski is Cedar Rapids' opening-day pitcher.

John Steadman, sports editor of the Baltimore News-Post, had this to say about John "Boog" Powell last week:

"Despite Powell's present slump he is definitely an asset and a threat whenever he comes to bat. He has been hitting the ball hard but has had more than his share of tough luck. To date Powell has not had a cheap hit. He has been hitting screamers at the fielders."

"They labeled Powell wrong in the early exhibition games when they called him a butcher and another Babe Herman because of his fielding."

"He hasn't hurt us with his fielding and throwing. In fact, in Saturday's game against Kansas City he went about 150 feet to snare a line drive to kill a rally."

Pete Marchegiano, the brother of former heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, was elevated to the roster of the Eau Claire club on the last day of spring training.

Marchegiano was to come north with the Cedar Rapids Braves but was sent to join Eau Claire, which had already broken camp. His manager is former major league catcher Jim Fanning.

Leslie "Buster" Narum hurried a 5-hit 4-3 victory over Jacksonville last week for his first International League victory. He was aided by two hits by Sam Bowers, who jumped his batting average to well above the .300 mark.

When John Miller went north with the Rochester Red Wings, Manager Clyde King thought he was only taking him along until Baltimore sent in some experienced hurlers.

Last week, Miller allowed Jacksonville only four hits before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth. John got tagged for a 2-0 loss but King has revised his thinking.

Truckers Scheduled To Meet Papermakers

KIMBERLY—Clintonville High School and Kimberly are scheduled to play a Mid-Eastern Conference makeup game here this afternoon.

The Menasha-at-Kimberly game was postponed because of wet grounds and cold weather. Coach Jim Nirsch said the game probably will not be re-scheduled until tournament play is completed.

Yesterday's Stars

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PITCHING—Jay Hook, Mets, pulled New York out of National League cellar with four-hitter that beat the Chicago Cubs 3-1.

BATTING—Al Kaline, Tigers, drove in four runs with his eighth homer, a triple and a single, helping snap five-game losing streak in 10-1 victory over Los Angeles Angels.

Others cut were pitcher Tex Clevenger by the New York Yankees, pitcher Jim Lehigh by Baltimore and pitcher Ray Davault by the New York Mets.

Terry Pitts Picked As UW Track Captain

MADISON (AP)—Terry Pitts, senior sprinter from Milwaukee, was chosen captain of the 1962 University of Wisconsin track team Monday. He placed third in the Big Ten Conference indoor 300-yard run and was a member of the Badger indoor championship relay squad. Pitts succeeds Don Dooley of Waukesha as captain. Under a conference ruling Dooley was declared to have used up his eligibility.

AHS-South Track Meet Cancelled

The Sheboygan South-at-Appleton High School track meet scheduled for Tuesday was cancelled because of wet grounds and cold weather.

The meet was not re-scheduled because of the conference meet this weekend and conflicts with other meets next week.

Sir Gaylord Arrives At Claiborne Farm

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—Sir Gaylord, the early favorite for the Kentucky Derby who was scratched after he pulled up lame in a workout, arrived Tuesday at Claiborne Farm, where he will stand in stud.

The C. T. Chenery colt, whose racing days were ended by the cracked sesamoid bone he suffered in last Friday's workout, will be bred to mares at the farm, owned by A. B. Hancock.

Hancock said Sir Gaylord is recuperating from the injury and "he walks perfectly sound now."

3 Little Nine Baseball Contests Postponed

All three Little Nine Conference games scheduled for Tuesday were postponed because of the weather.

Hilbert and Reedsville have rescheduled their game for today at Reedsville. The Freedom-at-Denmark tilt was set for Thursday. The Bear Creek-at-Hortonville contest will be played May 17.

Phil's' Relief Hurlers Stop Cincinnati, 6-4

Philadelphia Routs Reds' Jim O'Toole; Billy Klaus Homers

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dallas Green had to squelch one Cincinnati rally and Jack Baldschun doused another preserving a 6-4 Philadelphia victory over the Reds Tuesday night.

Southpaw Chris Short had stymied the Reds on 11 scattered hits through the seventh but ran into trouble.

A 10-hit Philadelphia attack headed by Billy Klaus' first homer this year, helped rout the Reds' winningest left-hander, Jim O'Toole, who beat the Phils four times without a loss last year.

An error and Leo Cardenas' fourth straight hit of the game put two Reds on in the eighth and brought in Green. He gave Vada Pinson a two-out walk, filling the bases, and Frank Robinson drilled a two-run single to left center.

Green fanned Wally Post, ending the uprising.

Fans Jerry Lynch and a leadoff walk by Green in the ninth brought in Baldschun, who gave up consecutive singles to John Edwards and Gordie Coleman good for a run. But he fanned dangerous Jerry Lynch and got Cardenas and Eddie Kasko on easy outs.

The Phils tied into O'Toole in the second inning for three runs on a pair of singles, a sacrifice fly and Klaus' homer, a two-run poke into the right field bleachers.

John Callison doubled in Tony Taylor in the third and the Reds' southpaw withdrew in the fourth for a pinch-hitter.

His successor, Howie Nunn, ran into similar trouble in the sixth when the Phils marshaled four hits, including doubles by Don Demeter and Sammy White, good for two more markers.

Short had limited the Reds to four harmless hits until the fifth, when Cardenas hanged a leadoff single and Kasko drove him in with a double.

Vaccination - A Lifesaver

The American Medical Association has called upon the press, and specifically upon the city editors and editorial writers, to assist the members of the medical profession in coaxing the public into using vaccines that are available to them.

The doctors point out there are vaccines available now to prevent many diseases but, for practical purposes, they discuss only five, those for diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus (lockjaw), poliomyelitis and smallpox.

There has been good success with smallpox vaccine. Smallpox is practically unheard of in this nation today. Nevertheless there are occasional outbreaks in the world and oftentimes they are fatal. Only recently in England there were several fatalities as a result of an outbreak. The disease had been brought in from Asia by a traveler but because the English people have long felt secure against smallpox they had neglected to have children vaccinated. The result was a fertile field.

Whooping cough is much less important than it was a few years ago but still is a major health problem among children. That is a disgrace since there is a reliable vaccine to protect children against it. Diphtheria and tetanus still are threats for the unvaccinated and it is well known that whooping cough often leads to serious complications. Half of all Americans still have no polio shots although the great danger of this disease is known to Americans since it was only recently brought under control.

Why do people neglect something so important as vaccinations? That is the question the doctors pose. They believe it is mostly due to procrastination and complacency. But procrastination and complacency are inexcusable. Polio can break out at any time. In fact, there are cases constantly popping out among the unvaccinated in widely scattered points of the nation. These cases can be crippling and deadly. Only a few years ago people were eagerly seeking some way to protect their children from this disease. They were pouring money into funds to fight the disease and to pay for the huge financial costs necessary to control it. Now with less than half of the population vaccinated, the people apparently are willing to forget all about polio and its dangers.

Doctors are warning against this and everyone should know that there is no safety from such a disease. The moment vaccinations are neglected new children arriving in this world provide the field for it to break out again. All parents should new outbreaks. All parents should know that it is inexcusable and disgraceful for any child to have any of the diseases mentioned for which vaccinations are available.

An Asian Common Market

The Association of Southeast Asia is a new organization composed of representatives from the Philippines, Thailand and Malaya which may begin to fulfill the responsibilities originally dreamed up for SEATO.

SEATO always has been a weak sister because of the wide differences of governmental philosophy among the members and the disputes over what are the real threats to the people of Asia. SEATO originally was conceived as an Asian version of NATO whose primary purpose is to hold back Communist advances into Europe. But NATO members are pledged to regard an attack upon one as an attack upon all. The SEATO agreement merely states lamely that each member shall "act to meet the common danger in accordance with its constitutional processes." The differences of opinion about the nature of that common danger has stymied any really effective action by SEATO. And whatever the constitutional processes of each member nation, they didn't even get off the ground as far as the aggression in Laos was concerned. SEATO's point of view hasn't even been asked in connection with the Indonesian threat to West New Guinea or the fighting that is going on in South Viet Nam.

The advantage of the Association of Southeast Asia is that its three members follow the principles of individual liberty, economic free enterprise and justice through law as envisioned in the West more than any other nations in Asia. A further triumph is the relative economic health of all three nations. The Philippines, Malaya and Thailand rank one, two and three in the rate of economic growth of all Southeast Asian nations in the last ten years. They are examples of the practical superiority of their systems over the socialistic.

The Association has taken a leaf from the European book and is seeking mutual trade advantages within the membership. So far these include more ease in travel, the abolition or lowering of such cost as travel fees and press dispatch rates, the recognition of each other's educational degrees, and the integration of some facilities in aviation, shipping and communication, as well as positive approaches to trade agreements. Southeast Asia is understandably concerned about the European Economic Community and the best way to protect itself is a common market of its own.

Of equal importance in this area is the willingness of the people in the three countries to defend and fight for their way of government. Asian nations are threatened in two ways from the Communists: direct aggression and exploitation of the very real poverty. The Philippines, Thailand and Malaya have indicated in firm tones that they are equipped to defeat both.

Testing the Testers

There have been complaints about the various standardized tests given by different college testing agencies and foundations. Most of the criticism stems from ambiguous phraseology or pat answers that actually may favor the mediocre rather than the brilliant student. One young man, faced with a problem marked wrong, took the matter up with the authorities and was vindicated.

The test involved was a nation-wide examination given by the Mathematics Association of America. In the 13-year history of the exam only four students have had perfect scores. But Barry Simons of a Brooklyn high school was dissatisfied when his grade showed that he had missed one problem. Barry insisted that his answer could also be considered right and he proved it.

Valueless Consultation

One of the essential qualifications of an architectural consultant on public building should be the ability to estimate for the government policymakers who must make the financial decisions what a proposed public structure will cost.

That this minimum is not being attained by some of the firms involved in the state government's enlarging program of institutional building was disturbingly shown the other day when the state building commission complained that bids on a current project turned out to be half a million dollars greater than its architect had advised.

BISBEE, Ariz. (AP)—Sobha Dass Nelson, 37, of Bisbee, was determined to get a degree from the University of Arizona.

Nelson worked a regular 40-hour week at a Bisbee copper mine, then made a 200-mile daily round trip to Tucson for classes. On school days he averaged no more than four hours of sleep.

Nelson said he used 5,000 gallons of gasoline and drove 80,000 miles during the two years he needed to complete his college work.

Interest, Dividend Withholding Opposed by Kaukauna Writer

Editor, Post-Crescent:
Sen. Alexander Wiley,
Senate Office Building,
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Sir:

Regarding the proposed legislation with the innocuous appellation of H. R. 10650, I should like very much to exercise my privilege and duty to make known to you my views.

To deduct by withholding a flat percentage rate of all interest and dividends is unfair in that it does not, indeed cannot, take into account the entire income picture of the individual.

True, the taxpayer would have recourse inasmuch as he can apply for his entitled refund, if any, but the necessity of applying for refunds imposes an odious and unnecessary extra burden on the average citizen. Tax returns are already so involved that many must seek professional help in preparing them — chances are that you yourself do this. Do not saddle us with this additional process. Now the wealthy who have much at stake will protect their possessions as best they can. They can afford to employ lawyers and certified public accountants. But the ones who will be hardest hit by this proposed legislation are the poor and the aged, widows and pensioners and, in general, those who were not aggressive enough to accumulate much wealth in the first place.

An ethical question is also raised. Since refunds will not be made unless applied for, there will be hundreds of thousands if not millions of dollars withheld that do not rightfully belong to the Federal Government. The plan seeks to obviate the situation where one party (the taxpayer) does not pay all to which the other party (the government) is entitled, but it does nothing of the kind. The situation remains. It only switches the parties around and calls the result legal and fair. (The fact that the money would be refunded if applied for does not enter in: under the present system the delinquent taxpayer could say the same thing, viz., that he would pay tax on his interest income if the government billed him for it.)

The cost of this plan will be excessive if it is passed. Many of the interest-paying organizations in question have already implied that investors may expect a cutback in the interest rate if this legislation is enacted. And even if in reality this bill were not responsible for the lower interest rates being paid, you can be sure that it would be made scapegoat. Such reprimands and remonstrations do not help a bit when the essential fact is that while living costs have risen, dividend income has dropped.

This is an insidious way for Uncle Sam to "get his foot in the door" and usurp yet another of the citizen's prerogatives. All such taxation schemes have small beginnings, but once a precedent has been established it

Report From Yorktown Front

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for May 3, 1862.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing from the Army before Yorktown on the 22nd inst., says:

Situated as we are face to face with the enemy, our lines are subject to constant alarm. Scarcely a night elapses without an alarm — sometimes two or three.

The alacrity with which our troops respond to the call and fall into line is well worthy of remark. I have on repeated occasions undertaken to mention the Fifth Wisconsin, a regiment that stands deservedly high for all good qualities of the soldier and pioneer.

To-day the enemy manifests more enterprise than for the last few days. On our left, near Lee's Mills, two battalions of Mississippians and Tennessees were thrown across the stream where our picket of the 7th Maine Regiment were posted. A sharp skirmish ensued and the enemy was driven back. We had two killed and took one prisoner.

The Sharpshooters in the rifle pits have made frequent attempts to pick our men off but, up to the present writing, without success.

GOP Needs Lesson in Press Relations

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — One of the most perplexing factors in state politics in recent years has been the allergic hostility of Republican party politicians on the whole to the fact that their activities and their purposes are news and susceptible to coverage as news.

What follows here is written more in sorrow than in anger, as the old phrase goes, and results from an incident at the first session of the Republican state organization's platform writing committee a few days ago.

Republican party headquarters had sent out to the newspapers an announcement that the session would be a hearing. It added also that the general public was invited to attend, and that representative state-wide organizations were especially desired to testify on their attitudes on current events and political issues. This was logically construed by the newspaper correspondents who handled the announcement as an invitation to themselves, in intent, and as a part of their duties as reporters of public affairs, even without an explicit invitation for their presence.

AND THEN

But when the witnesses who were invited didn't turn up, and the politicians saw a slender row of reporters on the sidelines, they reconsidered the matter.

They reacted as do some people to the presence of ragweed. They decided that it would be better after all to deliberate in is easy merely to increase the rate. Now it is 20 per cent, then 25 per cent, then 30 per cent ad infinitum.

Newspapers are carrying articles of how as much as 99 per cent of some Congressmen's daily mail on this subject are against it. In view of this, it is difficult to understand how this infamy has already passed the House of Representatives and is allowed good chances of passage in the Senate. If you, Esteemed Sir, are indeed a representative of the will of the people, your course in this matter is clearly indicated.

Charles E. Velte

the comfort of complete privacy and the correspondents were asked to leave.

Now it ought to be made perfectly clear here that there is no misunderstanding about the right of this committee to do precisely what it did. The political party is not a public instrumentality, under law. It has a right to conduct its deliberations in secret, if it chooses to do so. The anti-secrecy statute that applies to governmental affairs, for example, has no literal relevance to political parties and their sub-divisions, including this one.

One wonders, however, whether this preference for privacy is not a foolish prejudice, at a time when the party wants all the friends it can get, all the public attention it can get, and pays professional publicists handsome salaries to keep it in print and before the eyes and in the ears of the voters it will so anxiously court during the remaining months of this political year.

One wonders why these politicians so stubbornly dismiss an opportunity to show to its constituents, real and hoped for, that it is alive and kicking, that it is deliberating in a democratic way on the issues of the day, that it has a response to them and that it wants to communicate with the voters.

PRESS AGENCY

Republicans are in danger of acquiring a very bad habit — the habit of assuming that communication is merely a matter of hiring some hand to prepare an artificial press release, which may or may not be related to what actually is going on and sometimes comes close to fakery.

Democrats were pretty handy fellows with the mimeograph machine also, but the record ought to show that they not only accept press coverage of their legally private party affairs, but actually welcome it. There is some risk involved. Not all politicians are always able to avoid foolish statements. Not all reporters are careful or understanding.

But the Democrats feel that the total effect of such public coverage of their activities in the party and their deliberations is a good one, and that the occasional embarrassment, or worse, is a reasonable price to pay. This contrast in political party attitudes may be one of the reasons for a phenomenon that Republicans worry and complain so much about — that newspapermen by and large are not counted as Republicans in their private attitudes and voting habits.

Disagreements Trouble U. S.-Allied Relations

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Allies, like a banjo, make good music until a string pops. The United States, trying to make music with its allies, is having trouble with the strings.

Because so many allied nations follow the United States, a policy laid down by one man, this country can only hope a change in men won't mean a change in policy.

In West Germany Chancellor Adenauer, very pro-Western and a firm ally, has just gone out of his way to belittle this country's efforts to reach a Berlin settlement with the Russians.

Wants Other Plan
The State Department fired back with a public suggestion: Let Adenauer come up with a better idea, if he has one. He was told this country will continue its Berlin talks with Russia.

Diplomats seem to think this spat will be patched over although there has been American-German fussing for weeks.

The days are growing shorter but for the 86-year-old Adenauer, the United States can only hope it can't be sure—that when he goes his successor will want to keep Germany tied as closely to its allies as he has.

French Opposition
France has been a long-time ally, too, but by the time President de Gaulle took over four years ago it had begun to look like organized chaos. De Gaulle, like Adenauer, is a pillar of the Western alliance.

But he can be a sticky one. conservatives, neutralists and leftists. This in the end could lead to a Red take-over anyway.

But the prince wouldn't go along and so far this government hasn't been able to persuade him to, even though as a mudge it has given $3 million monthly in economic aid to his government.

In the past few days the Communists began a new offensive.

Right next door in Viet Nam the United States is steadily getting more involved militarily — just hoping it won't lead to war — in trying to save the pro-Western regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Distasteful as he has been to many Vietnamese and ineffective as he was in holding back the Communists until the United States pumped in big military supplies and men to help — he has kept a semblance of a government together.

If he goes, internal struggles may turn Viet Nam into a shambles.

Neutral India
Even in a neutral country like India the relationship between it and the United States has been guided almost entirely by one man and, as may show when he's gone, depended upon him.

The neutral but Western-educated Prime Minister Nehru has been friendly to the West and not pro-Communist. But India, with the world's second largest population, has explosive forces bottled up under Nehru.

After him an explosion, shattering to the West, would be no surprise. Thus all around the world American strings are attached to one man here, another there. When these strings pop, there may be no replacements.

Lawrence Players Give Melodrama at Its Best

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
Director Joseph Hopfensperger and a fine cast of Lawrence College Theatre actors Tuesday night proved when dealing with a melodrama the play is the thing.

In a careful "revival" of Tom Taylor's 1863 "The Ticket-of-Leave Man," the audience derived all of the humor and bathos it wanted from the lines and the situations themselves without any superficial help from hooked-up acting techniques.

There were laughs enough from and in the play. And there was something else — a sort of wholesomeness that was refreshing.

The play is plotted clumsily — a part of its charm — but it does have the courage to moralize forthrightly while attempting to delve into the depths of the time's social strata. The well plotted modern play delves also, but it ends up in some sort of defense at the best and often merely settles for a muckraking reporting job.

Comes Alive
Taylor used most of the stock characters on his 19th Century London scene in the drama and Hopfensperger's cast breathed bouncing life in every one.

Three of the players had the happy opportunities to play to the nautics will be held at the Green Bay city hall starting at 10 a. m. Friday, the board said here today.

enough occasions fit for moralizing for any one man, Taylor put frosting on his cake by adding Green Jones, a character who couldn't stand prosperity. Sean Austin made a very likeable person out of this stage prop and James Bushner brought much dignity and a fine voice to the personification of a distrustful public that caused all the trouble unwittingly.

Robert Suszycki filled the bill as a tavern keeper and the entire, rather large cast of supernumeraries pulled its weight even down to a canary, "Goldie," who used its moment on stage to steal the scene.

Fine Staging
Although the show was done in arena style, scenery designer Patrick Sheehy and his crew dressed the boards with an authentic flare well lit by lighting designer Martha Valentine. Stage Manager Christine Vogel's crew caused no undue delay performing its job.

The ladies' costumes were designed in good taste by Yvonne Alwin and apparently expertly executed by the sisters of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

The authenticity of the "revival" was heightened by Marles Nois Dalton. Michael Katz was completely contemptible as the sanctimoniously respectable fagin and fence, Melter Moss.

First Super-Sleuth
The melodrama raised its head out of the welter of its fellows in history by introducing for the first time on the stage the super-sleuth. This stalwart fellow, Jack Hawkshaw, was handled in an adroit manner by a debonair P. K. Allen, who achieved the remarkable job — in the light of the script — of not looking entirely simple to the audience well-acquainted with Hawkshaw's more sophisticated and omniscient descendants.

Although the poor hero ran into 8:15 through Saturday.

All Doctors in Medical Plan, Kennedy States

Jersey Medical Society to repudiate "this attempt by a small group of men to impose their will upon the elected representatives of the people."

At Point Pleasant, Henriksen said: "This thing has been twisted to make us look like a bunch of stinkers, as if we were not going to take care of old people, but that isn't true. Our fight is against the King-Anderson bill (the medical care bill) and the socialization of medicine."

Provisions of Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The King-Anderson bill, which may come to a showdown vote in the next few weeks in the House Ways and Means Committee, embodies President Kennedy's program for health services to the aged.

It would provide payment for some hospital services, and sub-stitutes for hospital services, for persons 65 and older and covered by Social Security or the Railroad Retirement System.

To finance these additional ben-efits, the Social Security payroll tax would be increased by one-fourth of 1 per cent each on em-ployers and employees, a total in-crease of one-half of 1 per cent, and the base of earnings to which the tax applies would be increased from $4,800 to $5,200. This would cost each worker about $12.50 a year.

Basic Coverage

The basic coverage would in-clude hospital expenses in excess of $10 a day for each of the first nine days of hospital stay and full costs for up to another 81 days. Nursing home services would be covered up to 180 days.

Additionally, retirees would be eligible for up to 240 home visits by nurses, therapists, homemaker assistants and similar personnel. Outpatient hospital diagnostic services in excess of $20 would be covered.

Physicians' services would not be paid for, except for services of interns, residents and similar medical personnel included in the hospital bills.

Milwaukee Man President-Elect Of State Doctors

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Dr. Wil- liam J. Egan of Milwaukee was named president-elect of the State of Wisconsin Medical Society at the group's annual meet- ing.

Dr. Egan will take office next year, succeeding Dr. Nels Hill of East Berlin and East Madison who assumes office to- day.

Dr. Robert E. Callan of Wau- watosa was reelected to a second term as Speaker of the House of Delegates, and Dr. H. W. Carey was not unchangeably committed of Lancaster to another term as its authority proposal. It chal- lenged Adenauer or any other Dr. L. O. Simonstad of Osce- oles to come up with a better plan. In the absence of an alternative, however, the State Department said the proposal of- fers a basis for exploratory con- versations.

for the Department of Public In- struction indicated that per pupil costs are now $395 and estimated at $452 in 1963-64. There also are indications that the number of children is growing faster than the level of property values sub- ject to taxes.

William Kahl, assistant super- intendent of public instruction in charge of the aid program, said the present integrated district valuation of $33,000 requires an operating levy rate of 11.9 mills, and because of increased costs the levy rate would have to be 13.7 mills in 1964-65 with the same valuation.

To maintain the 11.9 mill levy rate in 1964-65 guaranteed valua- tion will have to be increased from $33,000 to $45,000, he said.

The subcommittee must decide that level of guaranteed valua- tion is needed to insure a reason- able tax levy. If guaranteed val- uations are boosted, the money will have to come from other tax sources.

In the 1961 session a rejected bill to raise integrated district valuation from $33,000 to $45,000 would have cost about $17 million.

The subcommittee at its next meeting in July will receive in- formation on the number of dis- tricts receiving flat aids and the number getting equalized aids.

The Florida primary drew the most interest.

Sen. Smathers had little trouble in disposing of Roger L. Davis of Fort Lauderdale and Douglas R. Voorhees of Miami in his bid for a third term.

Kennedy Backer Wins

Fascell had a hard campaign with conservative State Sen. David Eldredge but came out on top. The Miami congressman has been Kennedy's most consistent supporter among the Florida dele- gation.

Pepper, whom Smathers unseat- ed in the 1950 Democratic pri- mary, made his comeback in the 3rd District. He campaigned hard for the President's program to finance medical care for the aged through Social Security.

The issue appeared to have drawn a mixed reaction in two other Democratic congressional primaries in Florida, a state gain- ing four new congressmen because of population gains.

One supporter of the Kennedy medical care program, chiroprac- tor John A. Marcello, was defeat- ed by Rep. D. R. Matthews.

Red Demonstrators Routed in Lisbon

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Work- ers called out by the Commu- nist underground to demonstrate against the Salazar regime were routed Tuesday night by scores of Lisbon police swinging clubs and firing rifles in the air.

Unconfirmed reports said a 62- year-old woman onlooker was killed by a stray bullet. Ten or more workers were reported wounded.

bidding for his sixth term in Con- gress.

Runoff Election

Another Kennedy supporter, State Rep. L. B. Vocelle, made it into a runoff election with for- mer State Sen. John A. Sutton in the 11th District.

In Ohio Lausche and Taft ran away from their opponents but DiSalle had stubborn opposi- tion from Alty. Gen. Mark McElroy before win- ning the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. DiSalle had said at first he wouldn't seek a second term as governor, then changed his mind.

John Marshall Briley of To- ledo, a former business executive and onetime state GOP finance chairman, won the Republican nomination to oppose Lausche. He nosed out State Sen. Charles Fry of Springfield and two other op- ponents.

Taft, leader of Republican forces in the Ohio House, easily outdistanced State Sen. Thomas Lowell Fess in their battle for the GOP nomination for congressman-at-large. Fess, like Taft, is the son of a late U.S. senator.

21 Congressmen Win

State Auditor James A. Rhodes crushed William L. White of Mount Vernon by a 10-1 margin for the Ohio Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Twenty-two Ohio congressmen won renomination. Only four had contests, and none was close. Rep. Gordon Scherer of Cincinnati, ranking Republican on the House Committee on Un-American Activities did not seek re-election.

Indiana's 11 incumbents also won renomination, six without a contest including House Minority Leader Charles A. Halliburton. Winning their primary tests were Republican Reps. Ray J. Madden and Winfield K. Denton.

West Virginia Race

In West Virginia, six incumbent congressmen cleared the primary hurdle. Only two—Democrats Ken Heckler and Elizabeth Kee—had contests. Each won easily.

Rep. Cleveland Bailey, a Demo- crat, and Rep. Arch A. Moore, a Republican, will fight it out in a new district in November due to West Virginia's loss of representa- tion in the House from six to five because of a decline in population.

The New Mexico Democratic gubernatorial primary was a close race between the speaker of the state House, Rep. Jack M. Camp- bell of Roswell, and State Sen. Ed V. Mead of Albuquerque. Campbell finally prevailed. Camp- bell will meet Gov. Edwin Me- chem, unopposed for the Republi- can nomination to his fifth term.

Rep. Joseph M. Montoya was well ahead of two rivals for the Democratic nomination. The state's other congressman, Rep. Thomas G. Morris, had no Demo- cratic opposition for renomination.

Nelson Praises Towns, Counties On Access Role

MADISON (AP)—Gov. Gaylord Nelson has praised Wisconsin town and county boards for their increased interest in the state's lake access program.

The governor in a letter last month urged towns and counties to take advantage of the program which provides matching state funds for construction of public access on lakes and streams.

Nelson said in the last 30 days the Conservation Department has received seven new applications for public access funds and 15 requests for more information. In the previous nine months the department had received applications at the rate of one a month, he said.

The program was passed by the 1959 Legislature and appropriations have totaled $370,000, with lapsed at the end of the 1959-61 biennium.

Degrees Awarded by Greenville Grange

GREENVILLE — Eight received the first and second degrees at the South Greenville Grange. John Pingel received a silver certificate for 25 years as a member.

The grange will have an all work day Thursday to improve the parking lot.

The grange observed rural go to church Sunday with Melville Flagstad conducting the interdenomination church service at 10:30 a.m. followed with a potluck dinner.

21-Year Old Beer Sale Laws Cover Most State Areas

Wisconsin Municipalities League Report Gives Conclusive Evidence

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Most of the state population is now within the jurisdiction of local governments figure is higher, since some cities and villages did not reply to the survey of 21 years and since the survey did not cover the entire state. The first conclusive statistical evidence on the extent of such regulations of the sale of intoxicants to minors was turned in Wednesday by the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, which undertook a study of municipal practices and policies at the request of a legislative commission. The study of the question for the guidance of the 1963 legislature. Whether the state should have a uniform law governing drinking by minors is one of the oldest and hottest issues before the legislature, which was disputed inconclusively for months during the 1961 session.

Present Laws

Under present law local governments have the right of option and are permitted to license establishments for the sale of beer to persons 18 years of age or over, at their choice. The minimum age for liquor sales is 21 years.

The League survey showed that the municipalities reporting that long has forbidden sale of beer to persons under 21, the larger year olds, represent slightly more than 50 per cent of the total population of the state. The actual figure is higher, since some cities and villages did not reply to the survey and since the survey did not cover the entire state.

In a separate report, the Wisconsin Towns Association said that 268 town governments favor a uniform state-wide 21 year old beer law, and that only 12 towns opposed such a law. Many towns did not respond, however. There are nearly 1300 towns in the state. The same Association survey showed that at least 56 towns now have local ordinances restricting beer sales, and that 185 of those reporting do not.

Traffic Hazard

Critics of the existing local option system have complained that in an era of common auto ownership by young people, the 18 year sales ordinances in rural areas have led many young people to drive from cities where sales are restricted to rural taverns, causing traffic hazards.

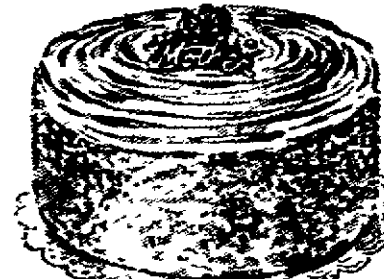

The League survey reported that besides Milwaukee, which has long forbidden sale of beer to persons under 21, the larger

Widely Diverse Topography Of Chile Divided Into 5 Zones

Famous Copper Mines, Nitrate Deposits Found in Desert

SANTIAGO, Chile—From north to south Chile is rather sharply divided into five zones.

The first 600 miles is rainless desert devoid of vegetation. Here are found the famous nitrate deposits and Chile's copper mines. Antofagasta, with 77,000 inhabitants, is the Father Resch largest city of the region and is an exporting port for nitrates and copper.

The next 400 miles is semi-desert; valley bottoms are cultivated under irrigation. Chile's only iron mines are here.

The third zone is called the "heartland" and extends from Illapel to Concepcion. Here live the majority of the people. It includes the three largest cities of the republic, the rural density of population is an exception for Latin America. It is 125 miles in the central valley from Santiago to Concepcion.

Frequent Earthquakes

Almost half of the width of the area is taken up by the Andes. There is a series of volcanoes here and the region suffers from earthquakes frequently. The coastal range takes up about a third of the width. The rivers, flowing from the Andes, cut this range into great blocks in startling contrast to the gentle slopes of the central valley. This range varies from 7,000 feet in the north to 2,000 at Concepcion.

Between the Andes and the coastal range lies Chile's famous Central Valley. Rivers cross it at right angles; the land is extremely fruitful. There is rain during the winter in the heartland, but the summers are dry. The rain increases to the south. Temperatures are highland inland than on the coast due to the elevation. There is frost now and then, but no snow falls. It is considered one of the world's most fertile and beautiful countrysides. In addition to Chile's three largest cities it counts more than a score of good-sized provincial cities. A resident of a suburb of Valparaiso with 116,900 people is Vina del Mar, a leader among South America's sea shore resorts. San Felipe is 80 miles northeast with 23,000 inhabitants. Its sister city of Los Andes has 32,000.

4th Largest City

The capital, Santiago, is the fourth largest city of South America, beautifully situated on a wide plain 1,707 feet above sea level. It is a modern city with bustle, noise, and traffic problems. Over half of the country's manufacturing is done here. The city's center is most attractive with imposing government buildings, fine hotels, business buildings, smart shops, and all dominated by the hill of San Cristobal crowned by a colossal statue of the Blessed Virgin. The Catholic University is well placed on the Avenida O'Higgins, a beautiful street 108 yards wide which runs through the heart of the city for over two miles. Much of the architecture of the resi-

Young Business Man:
YOUR CARRIER

Dave Guerden, 510 First St., Kimberly, is another of the Post-Crescent newsmen who uphold the "brother system" of this young man's business. Dave is the third brother of the Guerden family to deliver the Post-Crescent on route 10 in Kimberly.

The route, one of the oldest in Kimberly, extends along parts of Walnut, Pine, and Birch streets, and First, Second and Third streets. It is testimony to the personable and steady service provided by Dave that he practically never experiences a drop in his customers or his profits.

Dave has a sister and three brothers, and is a Junior at Kimberly High School. He plays a cornet in the school band.

The young business man is putting away most of his profits for education and, in the meantime, grabs his share of pleasure through his interests in water skiing and gardening.

(000), and Puerto Mont (62,000) which is the southern terminus of the railroad and the southern spur of the Pan American Highway. Chile has a long history. In small numbers Indians occupied the land before the arrival of the Spaniards. A century before the Incas had pushed south from Peru to conquer the heartland but were stopped by the fierce Mapuches in the forest region. In 1530 the Spanish under Pizarro and Almagro began the occupation of Peru. Five years later Almagro took the Inca road south and reached the heartland. He was followed by Pedro de Valdivia who founded Santiago on February 12, 1541. The Spaniards likewise were unable to subdue the Mapuches who did not allow settlers into their territory until 1877.

Agrarian Reforms

The colonial period was constantly disturbed by wars and internal dissensions, especially between the landowners and the priests who strongly objected to a system of virtual Indian slavery. There were also many natural disasters in the form of earthquakes and tidal waves. Chile has preserved few colonial antiquities. Chile was a part of the viceroyalty of Peru; trade was allowed only with Lima. By the beginning of the last century the powerful Chilean aristocracy was no longer content to remain subject to Lima or Madrid. In 1810 General Bernardo O'Higgins proclaimed independence. After seven years of war and with the aid of San Martin's army from Argentina, he was victorious and the constitution of 1818 was written, followed by the famous one of 1833. Its attempts to secure agrarian reforms led to O'Higgins' downfall. For nearly a century the country was ruled by a small oligarchy of landowners. Liberal parties have ruled since 1920 and have done much for education, health services, agrarian reforms, and economic development. The basic conflict between the political right and left has not yet been resolved. The forthcoming presidential election in two years will be crucial; it is commonly thought that there is a great danger the Communists may take over by constitutional means.

This Photo Shows a typical street scene in Puerto Mont, Chile, a city of 62,000 in the fourth zone, Forest Chile. In the background is a church still unrepaired after the 1960 earthquake.
